Repercussions To S.S.F. Overpass Move

By BOB PETERSON
Post-Times Writer

South San Francisco councilmen Monday night felt repercussions of the action they took at their last council meeting when they hastily approved an overpass and replaced a man on the personnel board.

Citizen reaction was taken in stride by the councilmen who heard Attorney David Friedenberg, of 2395 Bourbon Court, say South San Francisco's government was not going to be a triumvirate, a reference to majority action of Mayor Patrick Ahern and councilmen William Borba and Frank Bertucelli.

And former councilman Andrew Rocca reprimanded the same three councilmen, saying, "You do not improve the stature of this city by actions of this kind."

Verbiage flowed freely soon after the councilmen eased their way through the regular agenda. Mayor Ahern kicked off the activities by reading a letter he and the councilmen had received from Don Gamma of 3790 Cork Place.

Gamma, incidentally, was unable to be at the earlier part of the meeting because he teaches night school. By the time he made the meeting, his item had been discussed. This did not detain him from pointing out later, however, that he considered the removal of Dick Battaglia from the personnel board as the "most political move I've seen made in the 13 years I've lived in South San Francisco.

Battaglia, of 371 Valencia Drive, was filling an unexpired term. He had served three months of that term and another three months after it had expired before being replaced, without notice of any kind, by Mario Gagliolo, of 760 Grand Avenue.

In his letter, Gamma said he "felt it mandatory" that the replacement of Battaglia be explained for the public's benefit.

Mayor Ahern said "many factors" are involved in appointments and that Battaglia "was not fired. His term expired."

The mayor then, apparently to show his good intentions, quickly moved to reappoint Mrs. Lura Sellick, Henry Vom Steeg and Philip J. VanDerLeest to three-year terms on the city's recreation commission. The action was received by guffaws from the crowd. Reappointments, however, were unanimous.

Councilman Frank Mammini moved that "in the future" a system of screening and open application be made so that "the most qualified" persons may serve. This, too, was unanimous, with Mammini calling for a voice vote.

Councilman Borba, who initiated the action to replace Battaglia, said, "I replaced a vacancy and that's it. If Battaglia wanted the job he should have made an effort to seek reappointment."

Dick Geno, of 3773 Callan Blvd., made unsuccessful attempts to question Borba further, with each question to Borba being fielded by Ahern.

Battaglia spoke in his own behalf asking whether it was not customary to notify in writing a board or commission member when he was not being reappointed.

"Why wasn't I contacted?" asked Battaglia, "and asked if I wanted to continue to serve. I was fulfilling an unexpired term. I wasn't doing it for personal glory. I have an interest in this city."

Former councilman Rocca read a newspaper report of the last meeting in which Gagliolo was quoted as saying he worked and campaigned hard for the appointment.

Objection to the city hiring consultants "with the taxpayers money" and then not adhering to that advice was voiced by August Chevalier of 2600 Leix Way.

"Borba was committed to put this overpass through," charged Crevalier, "even if it's wrong. You have elected to disregard the comments and recommendations that this overpass be built and authorized the expenditure of at least $90,000 on an overpass that may not do the job.

"In the future, if we hire consultants, let's heed their advice," said Chevalier.

'Kept Cool'

Law Students Take War To D.C. Council

By FRANK LaPIERRE
Post-Times Writer

Both sides kept their cool yesterday as the Vietnam war was brought to Daly City by a team of three law students from the University of California, Berkeley.

Mary Nichols, a law student at Berkeley, made the presentation asking support of Assembly Bill 1674 which says that the Vietnam War should be declared either illegal or legal by the Supreme Court of the United States and if it is determined that the war is illegal then citizens should not be conscripted to fight.

Miss Nichols and Douglas Urbanus, an undergraduate at the University, pointed out that a similar law has been passed in Massachusetts, and several other states are already considering such action.

The well-prepared and presented argument (9 typwritten pages) concluded that (e) "There being no congressional authorization to conduct a war, past and current executive actions in Vietnam and Cambodia are in violation of the Constitution.

Councilman Louis J. Papan, a former WWII enlisted man and also veteran of the Korean conflict, asked the law students: "Have you fully evaluated the propaganda effects this move has?"

Miss Nichols replied that she had, but after talking to legislators throughout the state and country, was convinced this bill would take the "steam out of the sails of the radical movement."

She said her primary interest was having the highest court in the land decide, one way or another, if the war was illegal.

"In other words you would be satisfied if the President made a Declaration of War?" Papan asked.

When Miss Nichols answered in the affirmative, Papan quietly reminded her that the bullets still killed whether such a declaration was made or not.

He accused Miss Nichols of evading his "propaganda" ques-

D.C. Ponders Own Housing Commission

Daly City is studying the feasibility of forming its own Housing Commission made up of a cross section of local residents who would act as a sort of "advisory committee" to the County Housing Commission.

The idea was first introduced two weeks ago by Senior Citizens President Julius Castelan who explained the plight of many city residents attempting to make ends meet on a fixed income.

He said rising taxes and food costs, coupled with the lack of suitable low cost housing is placing a heavy burden on people in this category.

Larry Frieberg, active in local civic projects, agreed with Castelan that the city needed low cost housing as much as any other city in the county.

Frieberg explained that there were many areas a city housing committee could pursue, such as attracting private builders to undertake "Turnkey" projects whereby they would qualify for FHA assistance under a non-profit venture.

The committee might also instruct residents on the upkeep of their property.

"There are many methods to provide low cost housing in Daly City," Frieberg said.

Councilman Louis J. Papan was concerned that the committee might be duplicating the County Housing Commission.

Although the city committee might be "somewhat limited" in its scope, city manager David Rowe explained, it could still function as an advisory board and make recommendations to county and city authorities.

Lycett shelved the matter for two weeks to give the council a chance to further study the proposal.

D.C. COMMUNITY CENTER, GYM

Will Be 'Vandal Proof'

The Daly City City council gave the green light Monday to Bill Chapman, of Kirker-Chapman Engineers, to proceed with construction plans and cost estimates on the new "vandal proof" Westlake gymnasium-community center at Westlake Park.

The estimated $375,000 facility will be a joint venture project between the city and the Westlake Subdivisions Improvement Association (WSIA) and will be turned over to the Recreation Department for planning programs and maintenance when completed.

Chapman informed the Daly City council that to offset vandalism at the building the outer walls will be constructed of brick and concrete, doors of solid wood with metal sheating and door locks placed high up on the doors.

In the lavatories "convict plumbing" will be installed to protect this area from vandals.

"It's a sad situation when you have to put in this type plumbing, but we have to protect the building in order to keep costs down," Chapman explained.

Engineers had hoped special pilings would not be necessary to support the structure, however, the area was formally a marsh and soils engineers recommend the supports be driven into the ground to stabilize the building.

This has added to the costs, along with the estimated 10 percent annual inflationary costs.

The gymnasium is a "full gym," Chapman explained, and the complex will house offices, cloak room-beverage room, locker rooms, showers, multi-purpose room and storage.

"We've needed something like this for some time," councilman Frank Pacelli said. "It will have adequate kitchen facilities — which the War Memorial Building does not have — and will provide the city with more basketball courts."

Talks centering around the building have gone on for more than five years, city manager David Rowe said.

Pacifica's City Council Sets Election

Pacifica's City Council Monday adopted legal steps needed for inclusion of a $2½-million general obligation bond issue on the special Laguna Salada Elementary School District election ballot July 28.

The school set the election first for election of a trustee to replace Stanley Farber, now a city councilman.

City Manager C. W. Masonheimer explained that approval of the municipal bond request would provide a new pumping station and forced main from Linda Mar to Sharp Park, for construction of additional sewage treatment facilities and an administrative building in Sharp Park, acquisition of a small parcel of land, on Palmetto Avenue, adjacent to the existing plant, construction of a marine outfall discharge line out of the and for a support structure to keep the discharge line out f the surf for a distance of 1500 feet.

The marine support would be a dual purpose structure, also to be used as a fishing pier.

Masonheimer said the discharge line would extend into the sea a distance of from 1200 to 1500 behind the support structure.

Additionally, he said, there would be no projected tax rate involved.

"Payment for redemption and interest will come from the sew-

At Colma Schools

Mothers Fighting For Stop Signs

Mothers of children attending Daly City schools in the Hillside Boulevard-East Market Street area won a round Monday in their months-long battle to have stop signs installed in front of the Colma school.

The women had insisted on at least two arterial stop signs in the school area, but after an hour-long debate on the matter they agreed to one sign on a trial basis.

The signs are necessary to slow down the increased traffic along the thoroughfare, thus protecting the Children, Mrs. Arlene Pleisch argued.

Too many arterial stop signs are more of a hazard than none at all because they give the children a false sense of security, Daly City City Manager David Rowe countered.

Mrs. Pleisch, backed by Colma Intermediate School Principal Joel Franz, and Colma K-5 Principal Harry Aronson, told the council she had been "put off" concerning the stop signs for several months.

In one case, after talking to a police sergeant, she was told to present the matter to the city council only to have them refer her back to the police department, Mrs. Pleisch explained.

The matter of stop signs at Wyandotte and Market, and Lausanne and Market (in front of the school) was first suggested in October 1969 following an auto-pedestrian accident in which a youth was seriously injured. Although the vehicle's brakes gave out at the last minute, striking the young pedestrian inside a crosswalk, Mrs. Pelisch's group felt had there been stop signs installed prior to the intersection where the boy was struck, the driver would have realized his brakes were gone

A QUEEN CONTEST

The Broadmoor Property Owners' Association will stage its annual Fourth of July Parade and Carnival Queen Contest at 7:30 p.m. Friday, with five contestants.

To participate in the contest at the Broadmoor Community Center, Eighty-seventh and Washington streets are Laura Jean Norton, Jan Haymaker, Noreen Cushen, Sharon Counchi and Patty Mysel.

A Holdup, Burglaries In Broadmoor

A 46-year-old Broadmoor resident was accosted and robbed at knife-point when he went outside to change the sprinkler on his front lawn.

The victim, at 9 p.m. Friday, was Eugene Haggerty, a barber, who lives at 1539 Sweetwood.

Broadmoor Chief of Police Ray Savage, who also is investigating some 16 burglaries in his small community in recent weeks, explained that when Haggerty went outside two men came up to him, one simulating a gun at his back, the other wielding a knife at his stomach.

The suspects, both black, one about 19 years old, the other possibly 23, took the contents of Haggerty's wallet, then tossed it back to him, Savage said.

They then fled to an old, grey-colored foreign-made compact car.

The victim described the suspects as "very cool, like they's done it before," Savage declared.

Savage said his department has received reports of 16 burglaries in recent weeks, in which only money is taken, with expensive jewelry — and pennies — left behind.

He labelled the crimes as the work of "no doubt a kid," who is breaking holes in back windows, reaching in to open the

Played 'Woodstock'

D.C. Teacher Reprimand; Re-assigned

Mrs. Carolyn Schwartz, a Daly City music teacher, is to be "severely reprimanded" for playing music from Woodstock in her classes, trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District in Daly City directed Monday.

Board members had relieved Mrs. Schwartz of her classroom duties pending investigation of parents charges she committed acts which were "detrimental to the welfare of children in her charge."

Specifically, she was accused by the parents of playing the record, "Woodstock," which they claimed contained numerous four-letter words.

In fact, as a climax to a series of objections to the act, a group of parents played a portion of the recording at the board meeting.

Trustees first at their seats, then in hasty flight from the board room to go into executive session, heard the mass shouting from the recording of a four-letter slang term for sexual intercourse — letter-by-letter.

Board members already had indicated they didn't really want to hear it, but some of the parents had a portable record-player all set up and the cheer-leader-like yelling echoed throughout the room at 101 Lincoln.

When trustees first said they wouldn't like to hear the recording, thank you, Mrs. Beverly Forrester, who attends and speaks at most every meeting of the board, admonished them for holding such an attitude, when, she claimed, parents and students did not have the same opportunity to voice approval or disapproval before the record was played in the classroom.

Trustees left the board room amid chides of, "You walk out, but our children have to listen to it," and "Recall"!

The board, following a lengthy executive session that lasted until about 1:15 a.m. today, explained in a prepared statement:

"Since this board has re-

Tomasello: 'No Conflict' In Rec Vote

By WILL THOMAS
Post City Editor

Jefferson Eelmentary School District Trustee Ed Tomasello, a top Daly City Recreation Department aide, last week claimed there was no "confilct of interest" on his part and initialed a motion that committed the school district to budgeting of $46,000 in civic center tax funds to the recreation department.

A parent prior to the 3-2 vote had declared Tomasello, as well as Board Chairman Joe Lewkowitz who is city treasurer, should "disqualify" themselves from voting on the matter.

Many persons in the audience gasped and muttured, "conflict," when Tomasello indicated he would change his original absentions to reflect favor of Supt. Frank Greenwood's recommendation to approve the allocation.

Tomasello, in taking the view, thrust aside what he called a longstanding rule not to vote on matters involving the recreation department.

Tomasello indicated he had been advised a few years ago that no conflict existed when he first assumed a trustee position.

Tomasello listened to a memorized recitation of laws, dealing with so-called "conflict of interest, by Jim Foley, an assistant district attorney, then determined in his own mind there was no "conflict" and voted for the budgeting of the funds.

Tomasello was advised by Foley, in answer to his questions and statements, that:

"A conflict of interest may exist in any of several ways. If an individual finds himself unable to act in a situation where a decision is necessary without adversely affecting his own in-

Posy Parade In San Bruno This Sunday

Sunday's 29th annual San Bruno Optimist Posy Parade theme is "Distant Lands," and hundreds of children have entered the event in categories ranging from wagons, tricycles to dancing classes, majorettes, marching banks, floats, and other walking entries.

Flowers must predominate and every entry must be operated by children who are 15 or under.

"This is the city's biggest event for children," Optimist President Lloyd Flafker said. "And it's not too late to enter the Posy Parade."

At 1 p.m. the parade will start at Kains Avenue and San Mateo Avenue, proceed up San Mateo Avenue across El Camino Real, following Crystal Springs Road to San Bruno City Park.

"Every boy and girl entering the parade will be awarded a participation badge and tickets, entitling him or her to a hot dog, soft drink, and ice cream at San Bruno City Park," Optimist President Flafker explained. "Prizes for winning participants of the Posy Parade will be awarded at City Park immediately following the finish of the procession."

Posy Parade entry blanks are available at Dollar Savings & Loan, Lullaby Lane, Chapman's Youth Shop, The Bank of California, Ben Franklin Variety, and the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce.

Fatal Beating, Bullwhipping Of SSF Man

A young South San Francisco man has died of a brutal beating and bullwhipping he suffered while on a Memorial Day weekend outing with his girl friend in the Russian River resort area, it was reported today from Guerneville.

The victim, Buddy Joel Byrum, 23, never regained consciousness, the Sonoma County Sheriff's office said, but two witnesses have volunteered information about the group of motorcyclists who attacked him last Saturday.

Byrum lived at 220 Mansfield Drive, South San Francisco. He is survived by his mother, Josephine Byrum, of that address.

One witness, the young man's 20-year-old girl friend, said Byrum was beaten after he protested against one of the motorcyclists shooting a pistol toward a group of people at Rolands Beach in the Russian River resort area. Her identity was not disclosed.

Another witness saw the attack and notified the sheriff's office, but when deputies arrived Byrum was kept hidden under a blanket and the girl friend was threatened if she spoke.

It was not until nine hours later that deputies found Byrum — after another complaint had been received about careless shooting.

Sheriff's Sgt. Edward Wilkinson said Byrum "as literally

S.S.F. Citizens' Concern:

'The City Going To Dogs'

In the words of one South San Francisco resident, "the city is going to the dogs."

Bob Albright of 2501 Albright Way was not being facetious, although the comment came on the heels of heated words Monday night between the councilmen and residents displeased with other matters.

Albright said there were numbers of loose dogs "running in packs" around his neighborhood and he wanted to know what could be done to rectify the situation.

Several other residents chimed in with Albright's concern, reciting instances of their own in which it took considerable effort to curb unwanted dogs.

City Attny. John Noonan said the city has an appropriate leash ordinance, but there is a manpower problem in enforcing the ordinance.

Councilman Frank Bertucelli suggested that maybe the city could do a better job of handling the unwanted-dog situation better than the SPCA is now doing in the city.

The SPCA receives $7,200 a year for a one-man service to handle Humane Society problems in South San Francisco. To increase the work load would mean the adding of another truck as well as more personnel. This would mean the $7,200 figure would jump into the area of $27,000.

Therefore Bertucelli's suggestion is being given careful consideration.

'No Conflict' By Trustee In Vote

terest, then I would say a conflict of interest exists.

"If, however, the individual in that same position finds that despite the dual capacity he is capable of acting without undue influence from either of his capacities, there is noconflict of interest."

Tomasello replied immediately that he could find no "influencing" inasmuch as "in this case, all it would do is increase my work load."

Foley added that, "You alone would be fully aware of all the ramifications of the dual position."

Two members of the Board and many members of the audience had expressed a desire not to boost the Civic Center Fund allocation to Daly City; in fact, Trustee Schumacher wanted the fund to be no more than $25,000, which reportedly was the original contract figure dating back to 1962.

Three motions, two of them identical, but split by at least an hour's discussion of other topics, were offered.

And that's where the situation started getting "sticky."

In the first offering, Trustee Al Collett moved to accept Supt. Frank Greenwood's recommendation to approve the budget.

Trustee Dorothy Adams voted "no," Collett said "yes" — a deadlock.

Schumacher moved the board enter a budgetary item for only $25,000 in Civic Center funds. He and Mrs. Adams voted affirmatively; Lewkowitz and Collett negatively, with Tomasello again abstaining.

Lewkowitz and Greenwood said in a tie situation, the Tomasello abstention automatically went to the affirmative side.

Foley sustained the contention, then outlined conflict of interest for Tomasello, who did not appear willing to have the Schumacher motion approved in opposition to the Recreation Department's request.

"Granting there is no conflict of interest, there is no reason why you can't vote," Foley told Tomasello, who had asked whether or not there was a legal restriction to his voting.

Then came the plunge into other items on the agenda, perhaps over an hour's worth, before Foley returned and suddenly admitted he'd made an error — absentions, he said, don't go to affirmatives.

Tomasello ultimately moved to accept the superintendent's recommendation and it passed, again with a 3-2 margin, Trustees Adams and Schumacher voting "no."

The budget for the current year is $44,132 and the Daly City request is for $45,625, Greenwood pointed out.

An increase of about five per cent for salary increases "and no expansion in the recreation program itself" was represented in the larger figure, the superintendent explained.

He said the five cent special tax, on an estimated $135- illion assessed valuation, would raise $67,500, but that the district's recreation budget was $70,000, with expenditures of $80,000.

Schumacher didn't want to budget anything over the amount actually raised by the special tax. Mrs. Adams generally concurred.

Lewkowitz praised the recreation program as a way to keep youngsters off the streets, participating instead on crafts and playground activities.

Schumacher opposed what he called taking funds away from the educational programs.

Greenwood proposed review of the fee structure so additional funds might be derived from use of facilities.

Collett called the present recreation program a "wonderful thing," and agreed that recreation was a part of the total educational program.

New Finance Director For D.C. Named

Daly City city manager David Rowe Monday announced the appointment of John Massen as Finance Director, replacing former director Robert Hossli who resigned his post to return to Santa Maria two months ago.

Massen, currently Consultant to the Joint Committee on Assessment Practices for the State Legislature in Sacramento, is 54 years old, married with two children ages 25 and 19.

He will assume his $18,480 a year post on June 22, Rowe said.

Massen was formerly assistant City Manager of San Jose for 11 years. His experience includes nine years as Assistant to County Manager Marty Tarshes while the latter was County Executive of Sacramento County. He specialized in Systems and Data Processing Computer Services and management problems in fiscal departments.

LUNCHEON SET

The retirement luncheon honoring Rabbi Shore will be held at the Hilton Inn at the San Francisco International Airport June 7.

THE WINNER—Ben Martinez, of South San Francisco, an aeronautics student at the College of San Mateo, accepts the $500 Dennis and Carol Hendricks Memorial Scholarship plaque from Dale Kuhns, owner of Peninsula Aviation, San Carlos, as Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hendricks of Ashland, Ore., look on. The scholarship was created to honor Hendricks' brother and sister-in-law, both former CSM aeronautics students who died in an air crash last semester.

accumulating for two years," Masonheimer pointed out. By the time funds are needed, there will have been a three-year accumulation.

Masonheimer said, after councilmen approved a series of resolutions and an ordinance calling the election, that the $2½-million will "provide us with a safety fund in the event that some of our state and federal applications are not granted."

Nonetheless, Masonheimer said he was "optimistic" over such funding.

He said the reason the issue is being submitted to the electorate is that the "general obligation bond is the least expensive method available."

The council also Monday launched preliminary budget work, which will be continued tonight at City Hall.

Funds For S.S.F. Schools

Mexican-American seniors at South San Francisco High Schools may be eligible for a college scholarship, it was announced by the SSF chapter of the California Teachers' Association.

The scholarship will be awarded to a Mexican-American graduate of South San Francisco high schools who speaks Spanish and who will major in education.

LAST DAY'S ATTENDANCE—was taken by retiring teacher Mrs. Margaret Clarke. She was honored with a life membership in the P-TA for her fine 43 year effort in the Jefferson Elementary District. Mrs. Clarke began teaching at Woodrow Wilson School in 1927 and subsequently taught at Crocker, General Pershing and George Washington Schools. She herself is a product of Crocker and the Jefferson Elementary District, going on to get her degree from San Francisco State in 1925.

Fun-Type Meeting In SSF, By Concerned Taxpayers

Instead of the regular business, then speaker-type, meeting the Avalon Concerned Taxpayers group of South San Francisco will have an "entertainment-filled" evening on June 9.

Following a short business meeting, entertainment will include an accordian band and a guitar playing and singing duet.

Lois Barnes, secretary of the newly-formed South San Francisco Civic League said the evening was arranged so that members and their friends can have a fun-packed evening for the entire family.

"We urge members and the entire public to bring the children along and enjoy a relaxing and unusual evening of entertainment and enjoyment," said Mrs. Barnes.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. (for the business session) at Avalon School in South San Francisco. Refreshments will be served.

"kicked to death" by seven or eight cyclists from a crowd of 15 or 16 men and women bike riders.

Investigators said Byrum was punched, kicked in the head and beaten severely with a bullwhip.

Two members of the group were booked for investigation of possessing dangerous drugs and being under the influence of drugs.

They were identified as William Cabral, 19, Oakland, and Martha Stewart, 20, Alameda.

Funeral services for Byrum are pending.

Fireman Is Burglarized

If Daly City fireman Felix Valdez fails to show up at a fire while off duty he's got a ready excuse — burglars carted off his emergency call unit.

Valdez told police his Westlake Avenue home was broken into and robbed Wednesday and the city-owned "Plectron" system, a television set and camera were stolen.

Total loss was estimated at more than $1,000.

Savage said the suspect goes through all the drawers and closets in the homes, "evidently looking just for money — but not pennies." He's seen piggy banks full of pennies tossed on beds.

The burglaries have been spread throughout the community of less than 10,000 residents, he pointed out — from Beechwood to Midway and McArthur to Garden Way.

The chief urged those families soon to go on vacation to contact not only their neighbors, but the Broadmoor Police Protection District Office as well.

and would have attempted to stop the car sooner.

Rowe said the city had decided not to put in the signs at the two suggested spots because of recommendations from traffic engineers.

There are some 1,500 children attending the Colma and JRK schools along with 800 junior high school children.

Since widening and improvement projects have started along the East Market Street-Guadlupe Canyon Parkway, which fronts the schools, parents have insisted on safety precautions for the protection of their children.

Included in the reconmmendations brought before the council on previous occasions were guard rails, stop signs, a pedestrian overpass and improved signal lights.

Councilman Frank Pacelli said "if the people that live in the area feel stop signs will help them, and they want them, the only way to do it is to put in stop signs."

It was finally agreed a stop sign would be erected at Wyandotte and East Market streets.

Autopsy In D.C. Apartment Death

An autopsy was to be done today on the body of a San Mateo youth found dead under mysterious circumstances yesterday in a Daly City apartment.

Coroner Paul B. Jensen said it appeared that the victim, Vincent Paul Walsh, 19, of 115-H West Hillsdale Boulevard, died of an overdose of an unidentified drug.

The death occurred in the apartment of Leslie Acker, 20, at 11 Warner Street in Daly City.

Acker and another youth, John Paul Irving Jr., 1048 Eighty-seventh Street, Daly City, told authorities that they and Walsh went to sleep in the apartment at about 1 a.m. yesterday. Acker and Irving said they got up at 7 a.m. and tried to rouse Walsh, who was in a sleeping bag on the floor.

Walsh appeared to be dead, the informants said. Police and firemen were summened but their efforts to revive the youth were in vain.

The victim was the son of Mrs. Faye Walsh of the San Mateo address.

DC Teacher Reprimanded, Re-Assigned

ceived several letters and other communications alleging that Carolyn Schwartz, a teacher, has committed acts which were detrimental to the welfare of children in her charge and since it is necessary that she be removed from the classroom pending investigation of these allegations, it is moved that the superintendent be instructed to remove said Carolyn Schwartz forthwith from all classroom teaching, pending investigation of said allegations and such subsequent action as this board may take upon completion of said investigation."

Citizen Dave Parker brought the matter up publicly, calling playing of the record both "poor judgment" and "unprofessional conduct" on the part of the teacher.

Deputy County District Attorney Jim Foley announced, as spokesman for trustees in the matter, that trustees following a lengthy executive session had directed the superintendent, Frank Greenwood, "to write Mrs. Schwartz a letter of severe reprimand, setting out charges and specifications of unprofessional conduct in the playing of the Woodstock record."

Foley added that Greenwood "is to see to it that she was not doing any classroom teaching for the balance of the year."

Mrs. Schwartz also is to be reassigned to a non-teaching function, at the superintendent's discretion, possibly the district library, it is understood.

"Mrs. Schwartz also will be told in the letter that Frank Greenwood is to write that she is to remain away from the Ben Franklin campus for the remainder of the term," Foley declared.

To obtain her personal belongings, she may contact principal Ed McIntosh and make arrangements to do so, after school hours, Foley explained.

Foley described the board's action as discipline that "is not casual" and of the type that "any professional would not take lightly." But, at the same time, he acknowledged, "it is a reprimand," equivalent to the Education Code requirement that in such cases an "official warning" be given.

"I think the board intended it to be a warning," Foley asserted.

Bandits Bind D.C. Woman

An elderly Daly City woman was bound and gagged by a pair of burglars she surprised rummaging through her Atlanta Street home Wednesday afternoon but was otherwise unhurt following her two-hour long ordeal.

The woman's son-in-law, James Cranna, found Mrs. Regina Connelly, 72, tied and gagged when he came home about 2:10 p.m.

Mrs. Connelly told police she surprised two young Negro men burgalrizing her home about noon. They tied her up and left.

At 3:20 p.m. two Negro males robbed the Evergreen Market on Evergreen Avenue in Daly City and fled with an undetermined amount of cash and a .38 caliber revolver kept in the cash drawer apparently to protect the store from robberies.

Police said there was no indication the crimes were linked together, however investigation is continuing.

tion and insisted on knowning if her definition of "opposition" was the same as his — the "enemy."

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett informed the students that the council had just received copies of the proposed bill and they were at a disadvantage to discuss the matter until next week.

But councilman McRobert (Mac) Stewart, a former U.S. Marine, said he would have to talk with all his constituents before taking action.

"I can't be expected to speak out on something like this until I have talked with all 65,000 residents of this city," Stewart said.

The matter is expected to come up again before the council within two weeks.

Search For Jobs Is Tough

The business community, civic and union leaders turned out in good numbers Thursday in a mutual effort to nail down summer jobs for Daly City's low income youth.

But while the efforts were many the jobs were few and far between.

Talks between union leaders and representatives of the city's supermarkets did begin in an effort to reach some understanding on whether special dispensation could be made to employ youth for the summer in menial duties around the stores.

San Mateo County Central Labor Council president, Ed Michelson; municipal employees' business manager Frank Gillis, and Ernest Molinari, business manager for Local 340, Culinary employees union, discussed ways and means of perhaps employing local youths for the summer, with Leo Musso of QFI Markets and Ron Chiappari, of Westlake Foods, Inc.

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph's Jim Howe pledged three more jobs to the program, bringing the number to six, who Jefferson Union High School superintendent Edward Morgan informed the breakfast meeting that he will ask his board of trustees to okay an allocation of $3,600 for the program.

Morgan explained that the money would be used by the district to employ 60 students (12 er users fund, which has been each at the districts' five high schools) at $1.60 per hour — 20 cents above the usual wage scale for youth employment.

The students would be assigned to custodial, gardening and similar work around the schools, it was explained.

Daly City will employ 49 youth under the NYC (Neighborhood Youth Corp) program.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett, who has been involved in program along with other local business leaders for the past three years, commended the group for their efforts on behalf of youth.

Both Lycett and Jefferson School District Youth Work Coordinator Mike Orlich noted less than two weeks remain before the start of the summer vacation period.

Orlich again pleaded for jobs or money from the business community to carry on the highly beneficial program.

"If you have a job or donation call Orlich (755-1162) or Marion Goodwin," Lycett urged.

Underground Line Policy In Doubt

County government policy on undergrounding of utility lines was thrown in doubt this week when the Board of Supervisors balked at a proposal by County Engineer Don S. Wilson that property owners be assessed for the capital cost of street lighting in a Daly City project.

The question was first raised by Supervisor Robert St. Clair May 26, who said he just then realized that what Wilson was proposing was different action the board took last year in connection with a street project in the Ahterton-Menlo Park area.

Wilson proposed that, in the Daly City project, owners of property on San Pedro Road and Market Street be assessed the $2,000 cost of street light standards that will be required when the existing poles are removed and the wires placed underground. St. Clair seconded a motion to approve the recommendation, but later withdrew the second when he discovered that different action had been taken by the board in connection with the Alameda de las Pulgas project in the South County.

In a long and stormy series of hearings on the Alameda project the board agreed to specifically what will be charged against the property owners, and electroliers is not one of the items.

The board approved St. Clair's demand that the Daly City project be held up until the board can adopt a policy statement that will guide all projects. Wilson, who said it might be feasible to charge the cost of the Daly City electroliers to all owners in the Colma Lighting District on the theory that undergrounding is of area-wide benefit, was asked to draft a proposed policy statement.

While he was on the subject, St. Clair withdrew his "aye" vote on a previous item, a letter to the State PUC requesting approval of undergrounding a 60,000-volt transmission line on the Alameda project. The letter was a follow-up action taken previously by the board. The PUC requires the PG&E to allocate funds from its revenues to cities and counties for undergrounding. The county's allocation is more than $90,000 a year.

St. Clair changed his vote when it was pointed out that undergrounding the Alameda transmission line would commit the county's allocation through 1973. He said it was his understanding that the year was 1971, not 1973.

"I don't think you can gracefully withdraw your request at this point," Wilson said.

"I want the record to indicate," St. Clair repolied, "that it was not clear to me and I vote no on it."

Slim Class At Peninsula Y

A new women's slim and trim class will be starting at the Peninsula YMCA on Monday, June 8 and will continue on Monday and Thursday evenings from 7:30-8:30 for eight weeks. Cost for the class is $10.

AUDREY NEIBOLT of the Westlake Lutheran Church, Joan Anderson of Broadmoor Presbyterian, Dona Allen of Grace Presbyterian and John Foreman of Westlake Community Baptist Church help announce vacation church school in Daly City.

Ecumenical Vacation Bible School

Six Protestant churches will join in having Ecumenical Vacation Church School June 15 through 19, Monday through Friday, from 9 to 12 noon.

The school will be held simultaneously at three church locations in Daly City, the Westlake Lutheran Church, Avalon Drive and Westmoor Avenue; at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377 Eighty-seventh Street; and the Grace Presbyterian Church, 515 Winchester Street, Daly City.

The Wesley and Seacliff Methodist Church are cooperating at the Lutheran Church, the Westlake Community Baptist will cooperate at the Broadmoor Presbyterian and the Second Baptist Church will work in cooperation with the Grace Presbyterian Church.

There will be classes, activities and outings for children beginning with those who have been in school kindergarten this past year through those that have been in the sixth grade this past year.

The study and activity theme is "Neighbors," stressing the variety of concerns and interest we have as Christians toward other people, young and old.

The registration fee is $1.50 to take care of the school expenses. The school held at the Grace Presbyterian will start each day at 9:30 instead of 9 a.m.

Children of the community are invited to attend a school at any one of these locations.

Registration will be held before the start of the school on the Monday of its beginning.

WESTLAKE BIRTHDAY

Westlake Shopping Center is observing its nineteenth birthday and is celebrating the event with a four-day banner birthday sale at all stores.

The celebration will be climaxed Saturday when Westlake merchants will serve 5000 pieces of pineapple birthday cake and coffee, free, to all visitors.

Serving hours (Saturday only) will be from noon to 3

The Reapers To Perform At Westside

At the 7 p.m. June 7 Family Fellowship Gospel Hour of the Westside Baptist Church, 390 Inverness Drive, Pacifica, "The Reapers" of San Jose will be featured.

This group composed of Bob and Stan Meleen and Barbara Mayberry appeared at the Dedication service of the church in April, and were a real blessing to all who heard them.

The group will have charge of the evening service, and will present words of testimony, vocal and instrumental numbers.

Each Sunday at 6 p.m. is Youth Hour, when junior high and senior high CYF groups meet. Also at this hour, the Primary GMG and Junior Astronauts meet.

At 9:45 a.m. each Sunday, 14 age-graded, Bible-centered classes meet. Pastor David Donnelly will begin a new Pastor's class this week for youth and adults.

"Our Advocate" will be the sermon topic for the 10:55 a.m. worship hour message by Pastor Donnelly. Special music will feature the Westside Male Quartette, composed of Jim Besser Pastor Donnelly, Alton Swedberg and Per Hillerstrom.

During the adult worship service, two childrens churches are conducted. Primary Church for boys and girls four through six years of age, and Junior Church for boys and girls seven through nine years of age.

A Nursery is maintained during all Sunday services.

Monday at 7 p.m., junior high GMG will meet at the church.

Sunday afternoon, will be a Spring Tea, at 3 p.m., sponsored by the Women's Missionary Society, for Mothers and daughters. Special speaker will be Mrs. Isobel Roberts of Redwood City.

Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., will be Bible Study and Prayer Hour at the church. Pastor Donnelly is leading in the study of the book of Romans.

Library Plan Approved By San Bruno

A resolution has been adopted by San Bruno councilmen to enable the city's library to enter a joint powers of agreement with the Peninsula Library System.

Under the system, each city receives a $10,000 state grant for the first two years of operation. At the end of the two-year period the city may decide whether to continue in the system and pay its own way, or to drop out, which takes a 90-day notice.

Two other grants of the system include a $60,000 establishment grant and a $14,057 per capita grant.

All Peninsula cities, with the exception of South San Francisco and Menlo Park, are members of the system.

The main benefit is that the arrangement gives everyone of every community a much wider book selection. Persons of any community may go to a library of any other community to either borrow or return books.

Gun Fired, Two Arrested

Two Daly City men were arrested following an altercation on Mission Street Sunday in which a gun was allegedly drawn by one of the suspects and fired twice.

Both bullets from the .38-caliber revoler smashed into the front door of a gun shop at 6694 Mission Street, police said.

Arrested shortly before 5 p.m. Sunday was Eddy Pelton, 23, of 208 Hillside Boulevard and Jack Scroggins, 65, of 56 Alps Street.

CPL. DAVID DEEM

Marine Deem Is Assigned To Embassy

Marine Corporal David A. Deem, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Deem of Daly City, has been assigned to the United States Embassy in La Paz, Bolivia, following his graduation from the Foreign Language School in Washington, D.C.

Cpl. Deem is a graduate of Westmoor High School (last of 1967) and has served overseas in Vietnam and Okinawa before returning to the United States for assignment to Air Force One — President Nixon's jet aircraft — during the President's visit to San Clemente last Christmas.

He was selected by his superiors for assignment to the Marine Security Guard School at Arlington, Va.

The special school comes under the primary directorship of the U.S. State Department and is responsible for protection of Embassy personnel abroad at the discretion of the State Department.

The program came into being in 1949 with the assignment of six specially trained Marines to the Embassy in Bangkok.

Charges Leveled By Teacher's Aide

A volunteer teacher's aide last week claimed the separate kindergarten room at Crocker School in Daly City is without adequate communication with the outside, has a dirty floor and that the "stench" of the bathroom "is terrible."

Trustees directed administrators to report back next meeting on corrective measures.

Supt. Frank Greenwood blamed the dirty floors — which trustee Dorothy Adams said hadn't "seen daylight" for some time — on a series of substitute custodians, and on the tight 150-minute sessions that do not allow sufficient time between for cleaning.

The parent aide, Mrs. Janet Lyman, a registered nurse, brought the health conditions to the board's attention Tuesday on behalf of the children and the classroom teacher, Miss Barbara Lewis.

Mrs. Lyman pointed out that the kindergarten class extends beyond the normal working day for other teachers, the principal and the secretary, but that there is no adequate way for Miss Lewis to contact persons for assistance if needed.

Greenwood replied that he did not think a telephone system, as urged, would be the solution, particularly from a cost standpoint (one parent quoted a price of $15) and previoudly had an intercom system installed.

Both Miss Lewis and Mrs. Lyman assailed its effectiveness. Usually, it was noted, there was no one in the main building at that hour to hear the teacher if she needed aid. Miss Lewis later commented she couldn't hear the secretary using the intercom.

"In case of emergency, what is she to do?" Mrs. Lyman asked trustees. "She can't depend on five year olds."

She also declared the kindergarten at Crocker lacks "one-half" the basic equipment and tools listed as necessary, the big rug should be vacumned once a day, there is glass all over the playground and in the bathroom she found on visiting the "stench" to be "terrible."

Another person acquainted with the Crocker set-up disclosed that Jefferson and Serramonte High School students — who are let off buses near Crocker — often bang on the door.

(A Post reporter was told previously that there have been instances of the older students barging into the room, to use the bathroom.)

Greenwood called some of the items "legitimate gripes," and said he hoped the 180 minute session proposed for next year might allow more time for custodial cleanup between sessions.

He also said an attempt would be made for the remainder of this term — until June 12 —to have the secretary remain at work until after 3:30 p.m., the time when kindergartners are dismissed.

But he was reluctant to install a telephone. He didn't consider it "practical." Furthermore, other schools have and would again request similar installation, Greenwood said.

The kindergarten room is "no farther removed" than many of the portables at other schools, he declared.

Trustee Dorothy Adams told Greenwood that the matter was not a question of five others asking for the same thing, but question of, "Is this a safe condition for the children."

Edward Dennis Honored

By WILL THOMAS
Post City Editor

Nearly 600 persons, representing every level of government, every residential and commercial segment of Daly City and widespread portions of San Mateo County, paid tribute to retired union leader—Councilman Edward J. Dennis Wednesday.

The well-planned testimonial was held in the Daly City Water Memorial Building, which he helped dedicate as a councilman a decade ago.

Numerous telegrams, including one from Gov. Ronald Reagan, honored the widely known and respected Dennis, who served in Daly City's municipal government as a councilman since 1944.

Dennis did not seek reelection this year, and also retired as president of the Milk Drivers and Dairy Employees Union 226 after 20 years.

Old milk-driving friends were among those attending the testimonial, joining politician and constituent alike from the community that Dennis not only served as an adult, but grew up in as a child.

The list of presentations and commendations was long, indicating the high respect government, business, labor and civic officials have for their colleague, leader and friend.

The testimonial not only reexposed Dennis to his friends from his own community, but these friends themselves to nearly every Senate and Assembly candidate for election June 2.

Presentations and commendations came from Senator Richard J. Dolwig, via Edward Morgan, superintendent of the Jefferson High School District; Assemblymen Leo J. Ryan and Carl A. Britschgi; Mrs. Jean Fassler, chairman of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors; Anthony A. Giammona, Daly City councilman; Albert Teglia, president of the Jefferson High School District Board of Trustees; Joseph Lewkowitz, president of the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees; Don Halverson, president of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

Frank Spaderella and Frank LaPierre handled presentation of igfts, which included a portable color television set and a set of custom-fitted golf clubs valued at $500.

Master of ceremonies was Councilman Francis P. Pacelli. The welcoming address was given by Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett, and the chief of the Broadmoor Police Protection District, Ray W. Savage, introduced the guest of honor.

Savage and Pacelli were co-chairmen, assisted by a seven-man dinner committee.

Building In D.C. Wins Little Favor

An attempt by County Supervisor Robert St. Clair to revive interest in a county building in Daly City received a minimum response from his fellow board members last week.

St. Clair said he received a letter recently from City Manager David Rowe reminding the county that the use of the old City Hall for a Municipal Court is only temporary and that the city intends to establish a library in those quarters. St. Clair called it an "eviction notice."

A three-year contract for use of the building is due to expire May 1, 1971.

The supervisor proposed that County Manager M. D. Tarshes prepare a report on the feasibility of continuing the court in Daly City. He predicted the result:

"The court is working. It is a service to the community and I would like to have this odcumented by the county manager.

"If the board does not feel the court should continue up there," St. Clair added, "you should have this study to refer to."

There was no response from the other supervisors and the board did not order the study made as requested.

The headquarters of the Northern Judicial District is in South San Francisco. The branch court in Daly City is presided over by Judge Charles Becker.

In the past there has been talk of a new government building, to be jointly constructed and used by the county and Jefferson High School District, in the new civic center complex at Nintieth and Sullivan streets. St. Clair noted that the project is now "in limbo" and urged that it be revived.

"We've gone on record in support of the program," he said, "and we should show our good faith."

County facilities to be housed in such a building would include one or more courts, health and welfare, probation and district attorney's offices.

No Pollution From Plant

Construction of a filtration plant near Junipero Serra Freeway above the San Bruno Park and the San Mateo County Park at San Bruno will have no polluting or damaging effect on the parks, according to San Bruno Mayor Neil Christal.

He said he has been advised that none of the impurities of the plant will be allowed to come through the creek area. Instead they will be pumped back into San Andreas Lake.

Asked how that would affect the lake, the mayor answered it would not harm it, possibly for another 40 years.

Fireman Is Promoted In Pacifica

Capt. James (Babe) Evans, 35, a Pacifica fireman since 1958, Thursday was named fire marshal, in charge of the department's fire prevention bureau.

Evans succeeds Dan Lynch, the last of the city's three original firemen to retire. Lynch had injured a knee a few years ago, on a rescue call to Devil's Slide, and the injury failed to heal properly.

Lynch was the first fire prevention bureau officer, becoming fire marshal with its formation in the late 1950's. However, the duties had been assigned to him before the Pacifica department had grown to the extent the bureau could be estabiished.

Evans, whose career has been one involved in fire suppression and rescue, will assume responsibility for investigation of fire cause and arson, building inspections, plans checks, fire prevention and information.

The appointment was made by Chief Cal Hinton, who just last year replaced Edwin Greer, also one of the first three firemen when Pacifica was incorporated.

Awards Given At Westmoor

RICHARD GIUSTI AND LORRAINE THOMAS
. . . Outstanding Seniors

Outstanding Senior Honors Announced

Graduating Westmoor seniors Rick Giusti, son of Mrs. Lenore Giusti, 1612 Wildwood Avenue, and Lorraine Thomas, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Vernon Thomas, 91 Carleton, have been honored as the outstanding senior boy and girl in Westmoor's class of '70.

Rick has brought numerous honors in the area of mathematics to Westmoor during his years at Westmoor. His activities in other facets of high school life include serving in student government as freshman class president and fall '69 student body president, and earning athletic honors in the form of a varsity Block "W" for football and track. Rich was also a member of Westmoor's Curriculum Planning Council.

Lorraine's activities have centered around the Youth for Service organization which gives aid to minorities and the Campus Life Club. She experienced the task of judging class spirit for the Perpetual Spirit Trophy during her senior year as a spirit judge. Lorraine plans a career in social service.

Both Rick and Lorraine were awarded for their academic achievements earlier this year in the Bank of America Achievement Awards program. Rick received the trophy in the general field of math and science, while Lorraine was a certificate winner in the foreign language category.

KATHY KLEMENS

Scholarships From Ram's Class Of '69

Westmoor's Class of 1969 left a legacy for '70 seniors, Holly O'Hare and Kathy Klemens, when their treasury surplus was converted to two $100 scholarships, which were awarded to Holly and Kathy.

Holly, who plans to continue her studies in nursing at San Francisco State, has done volunteer work as a Candy Striper, plus volunteering her service as Sunday School teacher and Red Cross swimming instructor.

In school she has been a student government representative, member of Inquire Club, Girl's Athletic Association, Youth for Service and French Club, of which she has been president for three years.

JEAN RATTO AND REBECCA ROZMAN

Two Share Top Average

Westmoor High School's valedictorians for the 1969-70 school year are Rebecca Rozman and Jean Ratto, who will share the honor because their grade point averages were both 3.9.

Rebecca, who resides at 758 Higate Street in Daly City, with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rozman, has been a member of the California Scholarship Federation for four years and the Girls Athletic Association, as well as served as one of Westmoor's Spirit Week Judges. Among Rebecca's honors are the Bank of America's Certificate of Homemaking Award, and the D.A.R. Outstanding Senior Girl Award. She is currently making plans to attend Los Angeles Baptist College.

Jean, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ratto, makes 20 Lake Vista in Daly City her home. She also is a life member of CSF. During her stay at Westmoor Jean received a chemistry award from the Chemistry Society of Santa Clara. She plans to continue her studes at San Francisco State.

DEBBIE SHAPIRO

Award For Service To President

Westmoor High student body President Debbie Shapiro, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shapiro, 239 Palisades Avenue, was cited for her contributions to Westmoor and her graduating class of '70 at the 1970 annual Awards Assembly where she was announced recipient of the Service Award.

Debbie become actively involved in class activities in an official capacity during her sophomore year when she captured the position of class president for both semesters. During her entire junior year, Debbie held the position of commissioner of publicity on the executive board.

Debbie retained membership on the executive board this year during the fall semester as vice-president and the current spring semester as president.

P-TA Grants To Artist, Teacher

A future teacher and an artist are the beneficiaries of Westmoor's P-TA annual scholarship award, as Paul Benson hopes to use his $50 grant toward college where he plans to major in education, while Margaret Putman plans to use her grant towards the study of art.

Although Margaret Putman has been most active in art, which she plans to study at U.C. Berkeley, she has worked in drama, both on the Junior Variety Show and "Midsummer Night's Dream," the fall '69 school play. As a "concerned" student she has participated in "Inquire," a campus club devoted to matters of social concern and translated that concern to community groups. Youth for Service, Sierra Club, and Save the Bay. A participant for three years in the fine arts division of the spring Festival, Margaret, with two of her fellow artists, won a top prize in Westmoor's '70 Film Festival for their animated film "Clay Shorts."

Man Burned In Daly City –Gas Ignites

A Daly City man suffered first and second degree burns Wednesday when gasoline fumes from a car he was working on were ignited by a water heater in his garage.

Taken to Mary's Help Hospital was Gerald Figone, who was treated for burns on his left arm and several places on his body, but not admitted to the hospital.

Authorities said Figone was repairing his 1965 model station wagon in the garage-basement area of his home at 240 St. Francis Boulevard.

Shortly after 5:30 p.m., some gasoline from the car spilled on the garage floor and fumes were ignited by the water heater.

Figone's clothing caught fire, but he extinguished the flames by fall rolling on the front lawn.

His wife and two children were upstairs at the time.

Fire officials estimated structural damage at $750 and $1,000 to contents.

RADAR REPAIRS

NEW ALMADEN — Airman First Class Dean R. Wilhelm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Wilhelm of 528 Beech Avenue, San Bruno, has arrived for duty at Almaden Air Force Station.

D.C. Library And Planning Commissioners Are Named

The Daly City City Council Monday appointed new members to both the Library Commission and Planning Commission.

Richard Silver, of Glenwood Avenue, was appointed to the city's Library Board of Trustees, while Frank Tardelli, of East Cavour Street, was appointed to the planning commission.

Both matters were unanimously approved by the council.

Silver, at 21 years old, is the youngest trustee to be appointed to any city commission.

"This brings very young blood into the city," councilman Louis J. Papan said after making his choice known.

Councilman McRobert (Mac) Stewart, a former city planning commissioner, nominated Tardelli for the vacancy created on the commission by the resignation of Dino Tonelli who entered the recent election race as a city council candidate.

Millbrae CC Lunch

James Scholz, luncheon chairman, announces that the June meeting of the Millbrae Chamber of Commerce will take place at noon, June 5, at the Crystal Room of the Executive House-Thunderbolt Hotel.

Guest speaker will be Albert A. Salah, general manager of the hotel. Salah has a wide and varied background in the hotel industry not only in America, but abroad as well. He was formally resident manager of the Executive House in Chicago.

Flower Show Is Slated

MRS. GERALD KARSKI and Mrs. Murray H. Freedman are assisting with the second annual Flower Fair, which Variety Club Women will sponsor with the Northern California Floral Industry. "Flowers and You" is the theme of the event, which will open with a champagne preview Friday in the Hall of Flowers in Golden Gate Park, then continue Saturday and Sunday. Proceeds will be channeled into the Variety Club's sightless youngsters. Mrs. Freedman has tickets in Daly City.

Miss Carso's Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence F. Carso of South San Francisco announce the engagement of their daughter, Diane Patricia, to Dennis John Baynes of San Carlos. The couple will be married on August 22 at the Church of the Nativity in Menlo Park.

Diane has asked Michelle Baynes to be her honor attendant, and bridesmaids will be Yvonne Baynes, Lorna Marcus, Maureen Monedero, and Cathy Carso. Lori Baynes, sister of the future bridegroom, will be the flower girl.

Kenny Baynes, Dennis' brother, will be best man, and guests will be seated by Bruce Carso, brother of the future bride, and Denny Chargin and Chris Lerable.

Dennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bell of San Carlos, also has two more brothers, Jimmy and Bobby, and three sisters, Debbie, Lynn, and Linda. He attended Serra High School and the College of San Mateo.

Diane studied at South San Francisco High School and CSM.

Pacifica Address For Justmarrieds

At home in Pacifica after their wedding trip to Scotland are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley Barrey who exchanged wedding vows at the Holy Redeemer Catholic Church in Montrose.

The former Patricia Anne Meyers, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Meyers of La Crescenta. Charles is the son of Mrs. Andrew Barrey of Franklinville, N.Y.

For her wedding, Patricia chose a chiffon gown accented with a Victorian neckline, long full sleeves, and a train of chiffon bordered with eyelet. A cathedral length illusion veil and a headband trimmed with eyelet completed the costume.

Mrs. Frank C. Saylor Jr. preceded her sister down the aisle as matron of honor wearing a yellow dotted Swiss gown detailed with a full skirt and long full sleeves cuffed at the wrist. Similarly dressed were bridesmaids Barbara Stevenson of San Francisco, Julia Ripplinger of Yakima, Wash., and Linda Jaceks of Texas. Theresa Keith daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Keith of West Covina, was flower girl and ring bearer was her brother, Jeffrey Keith.

Standing with the bridegroom as best man was Joseph Melin of Milpitas. Ushering duties were shared by Gerald Pray of Southgate, the bride's uncle; Charles Innes of Milpitas, a brother of the bride; and Michael Meyers.

Among localities at the wedding reception at the La Crescenta Womens Club were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Wentz of San Mateo and their son Don; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Melin and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Innes of Milpitas; Donna Vansickle of Pacifica; and Cathy Coon of Fremont.

A graduate of Holy Family High School and Glendale College, the new matron also attended St. Elizabeth School of Nursing in Yakima, Wash. Her husband, who served in the United States Air Force, graduated from Bliss High School and Parks Air College.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Frank Meyers, and an aunt, Mrs. Gerlad Pray, made the top layer of the wedding cake which is saved for the first anniversary.

DC Students Plan Dance 'Show Off' On Saturday

Students of the St. Francis Heights Dance and Music Guild, known as "The Troubadors," will present their Annual June "Show Off" show June 6 in the auditorium of the A. P. Giannini High School. 39th Avenue and Ortega Street, San Francisco. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Mrs. Gertrude Scanlon, director of the song-and-dance guild, said the 60-minute stage presentation will have a cast of 138 singers and dancers on stage who will perform in 22 separate acts and routines.

For the first time since the studio was founded in 1940, a dozen adults — all parents of students enrolled in the guild — will perform a specialty number, "The Piece De Resistance."

Mrs. Scanlon said the title, "Show Off" Show, was selected because it permits students to show their parents whatever talents they possess under tough, competitive circumstances. "And," she added, "to show parents their tuition fees are not being wasted."

A carpet Bargain that looks, feels and wears like costly carpet!
A Genuine Bargain
$8.95 sq. yd.
1. You get famed Gulistan 100% Nylon.
2. You Get Sponge Rubber Cushion.
3. You Get Tackless Installation.
Have thrilling floor beauty now with this genuine carpet bargain! Luxurious and miraculously durable continuous filament nylon in the latest textured design. Don't let the low price fool you. This carpet bargain is genuine. Of course, your friends will never guess what you paid for it. Fact is, you could spend a lot more and end up with a lot less. Exactly what makes Westlake Maple Shop's Gulistan DuPont nylon pile a genuine carpet bargain?
SEE 10 GORGEOUS COLORS
Pineapple, Sauterne, Blue Green, Mellow Gold, Aegean Blue, Moss Green, Bronze Gold, Holly Red, Spanish Gold, Copper Bright
Wonderful luxury makes this a genuine carpet bargain.
It's delightfully lush and cushiony to walk on. And always a joy to see, for the latest heep-textured patterns captures interesting shadows and highlights. The colors (all 10 of them) are brilliantly clear and gorgeous. Your room will radiate great new beauty!
Miraculous strength makes this a genuine carpet bargain.
No ordinary nylon (let alone other fibers) can beat this continuous filament nylon for brute strength. You see, ordinary staple nylon is cut into short strands before spinning, which weakens it materially. But this nylon pile is loomed of 100% continuous filament nylon face yarns, which retain nylon's total strength. When it comes to long wear, this makes a vital difference.
Buoyant resilience makes this a genuine carpet bargain.
Go ahead . . . stomp on it. Let your kids romp on it. Put it in high traffic areas . . . you'll not easily wear this carpet down. The specially bulked spring-like nylon pile resists matting, always comes back for more. Your carpet retains its lovely new look.
Amazing ease-of-care makes this a genuine carpet bargain.
Dirt can't cling to the smooth, non-absorbent nylon yarn. There are no crevices to trap soil. You just whiz it off the surface with your vacuum cleaner. And, because there are no loose, short fibers, this carpet won't pile, fuzz, shed, or fluff. As for spots (even animal stains) you can sponge them clean with water and detergents. No wonder even the lightest carpet colors are practical!
Bargain price $8.95 sq. yd. includes sponge rubber cushion and tackless installation. Buoyant sponge rubber cushioning makes your carpet feel softer, more luxurious. Adds life and wear. Won't fray, shed or lint. Naturally it's mothproof and non-allergenic. Permanently buoyant, sponge rubber won't mat down. Westlake Maple Shop's skilled carpet craftsmen will custom cut, fit, tailor and install the neat, tackless method. Westlake Maple Shop's trained experts are careful in your home . . . no scuffed walls or damaged furniture.
HAVE YOU BEEN WAITING for a genuine carpet bargain to get beautiful, luxurious, practical carpet onto your floors? Well, ma'am . . . this is it! Come in or phone to Budget Plan.

'70 Scout-O-Rama At SM Fairgrounds

Highlighting the 1970 Scout-O-Rama, "Space Age '70," June 5 and 6 at the San Mateo County Fairgrounds, will be the most comprehensive space exhibit ever shown in the county, according to Jack Mancinelli, Scout-O-Rama chairman.

More than 375 San Mateo county Boy Scout units will participate in the two-day Scouting event, which will include the most recent "on the moon" film produced by N.A.S.A. which covers all activities performed during the last lunar landing.

Also on display will be a special space film from Lockheed showing the progress of the U.S. rocket program, an exact duplicate of the astronauts' space suit, exhibits from the individual Boy Scout units, and a teenage rocket unit demonstration of rocket firing.

Explorer Scouts also will participate in a Road Rally June 6 being held in conjunction with the Scout-O-Rama. A rally team is composed of three Explorers, and the race will be limited to the first 120 teams to register.

The race begins at 11 a.m. and is climaxed by an Awards Banquet at 6 p.m. at the fairgrounds.

Scout-O-Rama is open to the public and tickets are available through local Boy Scout units.

Honors To Students By PTA At FDR

At the Franklin D. Roosevelt annual spring concert, Ruth Galindo, P-TA president, handed out achievement awards to graduating sixth graders who showed outstanding ability and worked hard in athletics, attendance, scholarship or citizenship.

Winners of the athletic awards were Lee Kendall, Mark Flick, Marty Sands, Dee Stevens, Corinne Caballero and Patty Murray. Perfect attendance awards were given to John Barber, Denise DeLee, and Elizabeth Olson.

Scholarship awards went to Carol Richwood, Elizabeth Olsen, Sharon Palmer, Pamela Wertheimer. Collecting the citizenship awards were Eddie Paulino, Pam Tuohy, and James Newman and Calvin Cruz.

Cheryl Weaver Feted By Parents

Honored by her parents at a party after her recent confirmation was Cheryl Elise Weaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weaver of South San Francisco. Cheryl was confirmed at Bethel Lutheran Church in San Francisco with Janet Carmann, Marcia Winters, Renee Cody, Bill Cody, Valerie Webb, and Becky Namanny.

Punch and hors d'oeuvres were served prior to the evening buffet supper set on an heirloom linen tablecloth originally belonging to Mrs. Clara Weaver, mother-in-law of the hostess. The senior Mrs. Weaver received the tablecloth as a wedding gift over sixty years ago.

The punch and cake tables were also graced with heirloom linens from Germany, hand monogrammed by Cheryl's maternal great grandmother, Elise Meyer, born exactly 100 years prior to Cheryl. Mrs. Meyer brought them to America as a girl in 1890.

Among guests who attended were Gladys Schulz of Daly City; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Percy and sons David, Howard and Herbert and Mrs. Marie Hazenzahl, all of South San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Drayton and son, Barry, of San Bruno; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Muser of San Mateo. Sacramento guests included Cheryl's great aunt, Mrs. Emily Meyer, cousins Erna Myer and Mr. and Mrs. Don Thorne and sons, Jeffrey and Spencer.

Chairman of the luncheon is Mrs. Hughes who will be aided by Mrs. Monahan and Mrs. Dale Kirby. The former two will also handle reservations and Mrs. Passinisi will be mistress of ceremonies.

Altar Society Calendars Installation

Mrs. John E. Sullivan will sumed the presidency of Our Lady of Angels' Altar Society Tuesday after the annual installation luncheon at Russo's Continental Restaurant, 271 El Camino Real, San Bruno. A social hour at noon will precede the luncheon at 1 p.m.

The Rev. Fergus Lawless O.F.M. Cap., society moderator, will perform installation duties at 3 p.m. at Our Lady of Angels' Catholic Church. The ceremony will be followed by benediction.

Assisting Mrs. Sullivan in the coming year will be Mrs. Timothy Monahan, first vice-president; Clarise McClellan, second vice-president; Mesdames Joseph Venau, secretary; Patrick Hughes, treasurer; Denis O'Leary, financial secretary; Manuel Passinisi, parliamentarian; and Rex Harris, auditor.

Awards To Cubs Of SSF Pack 291

Mrs. Jean Carlsen's Den 3 led the flag ceremony which opened the recent meeting of Cub Scout Pack 291 at Mater Dolorosa Church, where awards were presented by Cubmaster Robert Hermone as follows:

Steve Lehr, gold and silver arrows, and Bear Book; Danny Mariner, silver arrow; Kenny Mifsud, silver arrow, 1 year pin and Bear Book; Eddie Bartoli, two silver arrows; John Cianciolo, Denner bars; Kurt Smith, Bear Badge and gold arrow; Mike Martin, Bear Book; John Casey, silver arrow and Bear Book. Mrs. Nola Hermone, Den Leader Coach, was presented with her nine year service pin by proud husband, Cubmaster Robert Hermone.

Al Bertetta was introduced to the Pack as the new Webelos leader for Den 3 and Cub Scouts Danny Mariner, Patrick Cassano and Kennth Bugher were welcomed to Webelos rank. Webelos Leader Larry Casey then presented activity badges as follows: Engineer, Eddie Bartoli, David Gathings, Roy Harmon, Steve Kriletich and John Funghi; Athlete's, Steve Bertetta; Naturalist, Mike Casey; Engineer and Scholarship, Steve Mifsud. Webelos Den 1 illustrated one of the engineering skills they have mastered by using a block and tackle arrangement to defeat their fathers in a tug of war.

Den 3 said farewell to Den Mother Norma Mifsud, and welcomed Jean Carlsen. A letter to Kenneth Mifsud, Cub Scout, from Assemblyman Leo Ryan was read, citing the boy for his recent achievement in earning six silver arrow points in one month.

Cubmaster Hermone praised Kenneth for his diligence and adherence to the true spirit of Cubbing.

Following award ceremonies the Whirlaways square dance group entertained the gathering, with caller Harry Mairani leading.

HOLY ANGELS WOMEN'S GUILD will conduct installation of officers at a special mass at 7:30 p.m. today at the church. Mrs. Raymond Nightingale will turn over the gavel of the presidency to Mrs. Gerald Delfino, above.

Miss California Pageant Trip Tickets Offered

A limited number of tickets remain for the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce sponsored bus trip to the Miss California Pageant, Saturday evening, June 20, according to Bernie Cohn of Seavue Realty, chairman of the trip.

A total of 41 persons will be able to join the festivities and fun of the bus trip which is being planned to give Miss Pacifica 1970, Donna Lee Van Sickle, audience support at the three-state televised finals in Santa Cruz.

Cost of the trip is $13 a person and includes round-trip bus transportation from Pacifica to Santa Cruz, $8.50 reserved seating at the Miss California Pageant, and refreshments enroute on the bus.

This will be the third consecutive year the bus trip has been in effect, and those who have attended often talk of the fun-filled evening.

The Miss Pacifica Pageant, an official Miss California-Miss America Preliminary for only two years, has walked off with the Best Staged Pageant in the State Award for both years, and will be striving for the third consecutive year.

The Miss California Pageant, an annual June event in Santa Cruz, is the last step before the Miss America Pageant Finals in Atlantic City, New Jersey, in September. Any interested persons who wish to join the Chamber sponsored bus are asked to contact the Chamber of Commerce offices, 80 Eureka Square, phone 355-4122.

Those attending will receive an extra "surprise" bonus with which to identify themselves while in Santa Cruz.

MRS. GERALD DELFINO will be installed the president of the Holy Angel's Women's Guild at a special mass to be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in Holy Angel's Catholic Church.

Mrs. John Logomarsino, publicity chairman for the guild, notes that a regular monthly business meeting will follow the installation rites.

Others who will be accepting executive posts during the ceremony are Mrs. John Provenzali, vice president; Mrs. James Arena, second vice president; Mrs. Ronald Chiappari, recording secretary; Mrs. John Martyn, treasurer; Mrs. Henry Norman, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Robert Paddredii, membership chairman.

Mrs. Raymond Nightengale is the retiring executive officer of the guild.

FRIDAY EVENING members of the Fifty Plus Club will be in Winnemucca, Nevada, having completed the first leg of a ten-day odyssey that will take them to the Grand Tetons, Yellowstone, Craters of the Moon and Lassen Volcanic National Parks.

According to Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, president of the club, in addition to the natural wonders the club members are looking forward to hearing the Mormon Tabernacle Choir Sunday morning and spending Sunday night at Jackson, Wyoming where they will see an old-time vaudeville show at Diamond Lil's.

Mrs. Elizabeth Funderburg has been doing the chores concerned with reservations for the group and Mrs. Calhan has been general chairman of the tour.

MRS. KATHRYN GLEBOW, newly installed president of the Mary's Help Hospital Guild, has been named the guild's outstanding member for the month of May.

A guild member since 1963, Mrs. Glebow has donated her energies and exuberance to a number of time consuming tasks. She was chairman of the Second Time Around Shop, a volunteer in the pediatrics department, and at the information desk. Mrs. Glebow was recording secretary of the guild for two years and vice president for one year.

Mrs. Glebow's efforts were innumerated in the guild's newsletter along with a salute for her past achievements and a wish for her future success, according to Mrs. Mario Mangini, publicity chairman for the guild.

WILLIAM MATHENY, of the Art Guild of Pacifica, reports that guild member, Mrs. Dorothy Young, will be teaching oil painting as a part of the Daly City Recreation Department's summer program. A bit of excellent news for all would-be artists who feel the need for a bit of expert advise.

While Mrs. Young is busy with her teaching chores other members of the guild will be preparing to enter into a summer exhibit being sponsored by the guild.

Plans call for an art show in the Linda Mar Shopping Center on July 25 and 26, but to date details are in short supply. There will be more news about this as plans are worked out.

TOM DOOLEY, Westlake's contribution to international athletic competition, finished second in a internationally acredited meet this past week and is busy packing his bags for a jaunt to Europe where he is slated to compete in distance walking events in France and Russia.

MRS. FRED BROWN, Mrs. W. H. Redding, Patti Parks and Mrs. John Firpo were honored guests at the new member luncheon sponsored by the North Pennisula Circle for the Florence Crittenton Home.

Mrs. Charles Poggio, circle president, presided over the business meeting which followed the festive luncheon served on the patio of the Thomas Bocci, Jr. home in Woodside.

A major portion of the circle membership was on hand to welcome the new members and Sally Headsten, the newly named executive director of the Florence Crittenton Home. Mrs. Edward Odenthal and Mrs. Michael Orlick, membership co-chairmen, were among those on hand for the final business season of the spring season.

WITH CIRCLE BUSINESS concluded for a few months Mrs. Bocci has turned her attention to more personal affairs and this past week has been busy with the details of her daughter's graduation.

Debbie Bocci graduated from University of San Francisco Sunday and was honored by her parents with a party. The gathering was a twofold event, celebrating Debbies graduation and wishing her bon voyage as she prepares to attend La Universita di Stranieri (the University of Strangers) being held this summer on the campus of the University in Perugio, Italy. Debbie will spend the summer learning Italian before returning to the states and beginning post graduate studies at University of Santa Clara.

IT IS TIME TO REGISTER your child for the summer session at the Serramonte Nursery school, according to Mrs. Margaret Holland.

The non-sectarian, non-profit, partent participation nursery school will offer a summer program for children between two and one-half and kindergarten age beginning July 7 and running through August 13. Nursery school classes will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays between 9:30 a.m. and noon in the Wesley Methodist Church, 1474 Southgate avenue. According to Mrs. Holland there is no registration fee for the summer classes but a tuition of $1.75 per day will be charged.

For those parents thinking ahead to the fall, registration for the fall and spring terms will be accepted beginning June 8. Parents are asked to drop by the school and see the program in advance prior to registering their toddlers. A registration fee is charged for the regular semester and tuition will be the same for all terms. For information call Mrs. Marilyn Vall, 587-7131, or Mrs. Glorietta Abbott, 756-4972.

MRS. MURRAY H. FREEDMAN urges localites to take advantage of the fine opportunity to view vast and delightful displays of flowers during the second Women of Variety Flower show to be held this weekend in the Hall of Flowers in San Francisco.

Daly City resident and art teacher, Mrs. Edna Van Koughnet, and a number of her students have loaned floral still live paintings to the show committee for use with the floral arrangements. Other artists cooperating with the benefit include Mrs. R. L. Ariani and Mrs. Gerald Karski.

The Northern California Floral Industry has worked with the women's group to present an outstanding floral display on June 5, 6 and 7. Patrica Stevens models will wear clothes from the collection of Cynthia, Inc. during the show to provide ideas on the proper manner in which to mix flowers and fashionable attire.

Tickets will be sold by Variety club members, at the club office, 90 Golden Gtae avenue or at the door of the Hall of Flowers.

BILLY E. SMITH and Paul Cayard were welcomed into the membership of the Lake Merced Sailing Club following the annual Regatta held last Saturday in the boat house at the lake. Commodore Earl Minkwitz presided over the meeting which followed the regatta and the potluck dinner.

Smith of Colma and Cayard of San Bruno are both owners of El Toro class sailing craft.

Pacifica's 'Spring Thing'

IT WAS A SPARKLING MAY SUNDAY when Pacifica's Community Cultural Coordinating Committee sponsored its "Spring Thing" at the Sanchez Adobe. The "Things" include (top) a plant sale by the Girl Scouts, with Senior Girl Scouts Janice Semler and Linda Heffron of Linda Mar's Trooop 1917 setting up some of the stock; painting (left, center) for youngsters like Kirk and Halle Treanor; tinkering with citizens' band radio equipment by (right) Stan Albrechtsen, Tony Gridley and Richard Raawe at Coastside Amatuer Radio Club's booth; and a used book sale (lower left).

San Bruno Newcomers Will Gather

The final meeting of the calendar year for the San Bruno Newcomber's Club will be Monday at 8 p.m. at St. Andrew's Church, 1600 Santa Lucia Avenue, San Bruno.

Installed as new officers will be Mesdames Chuck Matoon, president; Don Jacobsen, vice president; Stan Girard, recording secretary; Blaine Parker, corresponding secretary, and Chris Palmer, treasurer.

The Peninsula Choraliers will entertain and refreshments will be served to husbands and past members who are cordially invited.

The annual dinner dance will be June 6 at Brentwood Lodge, South San Francisco, and reservations may be made with Mrs. Marian Kelly no later than Monday.

Mrs. Rose Jacobsen should be contacted by those interested in touring the Presidio in San Francisco or taking a trip to an orchid farm. During the summer members will meet formally continuing to bowl at Westlake Bowl the fourth Saturday of the month.

To kick-off the new year a picnic will be staged at the San Bruno Park on September 13.

There will be no teen activities in Pacifica for the next two weeks because of high school graduations. The teen program for the summer will begin the week of June 15.

The Jefferson Scene

By RILEY ATKINS

This is the last column I will have the pleasure of writing for the Jefferson student body.

On Thursday evening, June 11, I and several hundred other seniors from the Jefferson Union High School District will begin a very important phase of our young lives. Graduation from high school is often thought of as an end, but it is obviously only the beginning of many more years of learning that is yet to come.

We are now in the unusual positions of being able to look back upon the significance of four years of change and growth. Each graduating senior must now look deeply into himself as to the meaning of this important period. Did we simply learn for the moment, or did we acquire knowledge for an age?

The best education is the one that will teach us how to continue to educate ourselves out of school for the rest of our lives.

Unfortunately, this is not the recognized goal of the secondary school. In plain language, high school turns many kids off to the learning process.

In the years ahead, it must be the responsibility of all of us who are concerned with the quality of our schools, and even more importantly, the lives of young people, to get involved and work for change.

In the final analysis, the high school is only as good as the support it receives from parents, teachers, and the community at large. It is so easy to let someone else do that job that your child's high school needs to have done.

But, no, you must assume the responsibility as a parent and as a member of your community. These words take on added significance today when turmoil seems to be spreading from college campuses to the peaceful domains of the high school.

To quote an unnamed philosopher, "If you are not part of the solution, you are part of the problem."

TALE TIME—There's a story making the rounds about a new North County Councilman that is so taken with himself that he has been telling friends about his close call while taking a walk the other morn. Seems a motorboat almost ran him down.

SIDELIGHTS AT TESTIMONIAL—The Edward J. Dennis' are in something of a tizzy! They insist on thanking all those folks who made last week's testimonial dinner at the War Memorial building a huge success. And they just don't know how to do it! Hilda Dennis thought about sending everyone a card, but vetoed the idea when it proved to be too big a task. At press time the happy couple still had not figured out how to say "thank you" to the 500 people attending the dinner and the many persons who worked behind the scenes to bring it off. Frankly, I haven't the foggiest plan on how to do it . . . or did we just do it?

MORE ON DENNIS—Former Councilman Dennis, who also retired as head of the Milk Drivers and Dairy Employees Union, Local 226, was reminded by County Supervisor (Mrs.) Jean Fassler that the coffee "cream" on the tables was, in fact, a "non dairy creamer." Poor Ed likely will never hear the end of that booboo. And with all those milk people at the affair.

WHERE WE STAND by Leo J. Ryan. Assemblyman Ryan's latest written effort is subtitled "Readings in Contemporary American Problems." The paperback (Fearon Publishers, $3.75) was handed out to newsmen covering one of Ryan's press conferences at the International Inn down South City way last week. It deals with everything everyone has said in print about our nation in recent months. Ryan wrote the introduction and edited it. Confidentially, it ain't bad at all, but there's at least one Daly City councilman isn't the slightest bit interested in reading it. Hello B.J.???

SHOUTING DEPARTMENTS—Lots of howls over those statements made to the Daly City Council over some fixed income folks eating cat food to supplement their diet. We didn't say it, we only printed it. And we're not the ONLY ears that heard the utterings. For a free list of those in attendance at the meeting write "ME, in care of This Paper" and it will be gladly disseminated . . . At least one loud shout from the JUHSD over a tale concerning their swim pool at Jeff High. Don't know why the story was so upsetting? A little elbow grease plus some closer communications between the Powers-that-be and those responsible for maintaining the pool and odds are the entire matter will be settled.

IT WOULDN'T HURT if the students picked up some of the litter they so graciously deposit around the district's high schools. The biggest litterbugs are usually those who go around shouting about "protecting the environment" and end up covering the environment with orange peels.

COME ON NOW, tell it like it was. The Tuesday elections that is! Rub it in and tell us you knew who the winners were going to be all along. But the facts are clear: This was only the primary and it will be different in November (if we decide to stay around town that long).

SPEAKING OF SIGNS (or were we?)—Away up at Yosemite Park where 20,000 folks like to roam in a single day, spotted a "Polonsky for Superior Judge" bumper strip parked amidst the waterfalls. As far as we could tell there wasn't any competition from the other aspirants.

BUD LYCETT "silently" paid the breakfast check for some 20 local businessmen and union leaders that showed up for an early morning meeting at International Joe's restaurant in Daly City. His only stipulation in paying the check was his real estate firm (Lycett Realty) NOT be given a plug for the gesture. Lycett, host for the Summer Youth Job Program breakfast, actually wanted to prove once and for all he did indeed grab the check—occasionally. And in making the announcement, he wanted to insure no one thought City Hall was footing the bill.

LET GEORGE DO IT?—A witness to the Bob Burton-Pickup Truck incident in front of the Burton home recently tells it this way: A neighbor walking his small dog past the scene gave a tug on the leash when his canine friend paused to observe the situation. "Come on George, we don't want to get involved," the Master cautioned the dog.

CLYDE SELLERS, Jefferson High School student, learns how to operate video equipment in San Mateo County Office of Education's Regional Training Program Teleproduction Techniques class at Ampex Corporation in Redwood City.

DAN KRONER (left) and Eleno Aquino, Jefferson High School students, learn how to calculate an air flight in San Mateo County Office of Education's Regional Training Program Air Transportation class.

Education Board Offers Occupational Training

San Mateo County residents now have a chance to take year-round day, evening and Saturday classes aimed at boosting their occupational skills. It's called Regional Training Program (RTP) and it's being administered by the County Board of Education.

The idea, according to County School sources, is to develop courses which don't conflict with those offered by high school districts, and still provide some kind of pre-job training. The courses, ranging in category from air transportation, appliance and refrigerator service, key punch training to computer technology, plastics technology, cosmetology and teleproduction techniques are available to adults and students alike, and are "a perfect example of industry-education cooperation in action," according to Lee M. Baxter, RTP Director.

Baxter says that all RTP courses carry high school credit, and that tin insure counseling and guidance does not become an afterthought, RTP incorporates its curriculum design through a placement system developed by its Career Information and Planning Service (CIPS).

Available through CIPS are General Educational Development tests which are accepted in many cases in lieu of a high school diploma. Any person 18 years of age or older is eligible to take the battery of five tests in English composition, literature, mathematics, natural science and social studies.

All these RTP courses are available in leased space in existing public high school and junior colleges, plus industrial and goverment facilities. A mobile instructor offers the courses at three different locations.

The 'Spiro Game'

JAMES HALLEY

Post-Times Columnist

The Spiro game is fascinating to watch. It pits two able teams against one another: Spiro and the collection of public relations men based in the White House are on one team; most of the nation's active press are on the other. The game is played with ideas, and the score is kept in polls and in men's minds.

Spiro begins the play of each point. He serves up a speech which includes some colorful expressions. To do this, he uses "hot words"—"Effete snobs", "Supercilious sophisticates", "The whole damn zoo", are examples.

Now when Spiro delivers the hot words, they are mixed inside a long speech (usually about 30 minutes' worth to be delivered at a Republican fund raising dinner). The speech is neatly developed, so that the hot words are reasonable in total context. Considered as a whole, the speech stands as the well-developed opinion of a reasonable man.

The next play belongs to the working press. They work in print, TV and radio media. Their employers are interested in advertising, circulation and ratings. They don't report the cats that weren't killed each day, but concentrate on cats making news by dying or climbing poles. So they sift out the 30 minutes of verbiage and report the hot words, "Intellectual Treason," "Totalitarian Ptomaine".

But before going on to Sprio's next turn, let's reconsider his first move. There can be little question that Spiro and his speech-makers and his PR men all know the realities of modern media. When a speech is written, the hot words are included to make the talk newsworthy. Any experienced politician knows how to do this and Spiro's aides are among the best. They know that "Tomatose" buried in several thousand words will stand out and be news. (In fact "tomatose" became widely known even though it only appeared in the written text).

So having started the play, and having read the newsworthy parts of his speech reported as news, Sprio next winds up and wallops the press for doing what he was pretty sure they were going to do in the first place. This forms a basis for new gusts, this time directed to the press, not students.

Next, a group of specialists enter the game. These are the editorialists and include the Restons, Wickers, etc. They blast back with claims that Spiro has demeaned the press and dampened, if not suppressed, free speech.

With this, it is again Sprio's turn. But in the meantime, he has served up another scorcher and the game goes on and on. The lowering voices rise to an incredible cacophony and over it all looms the image of Spiro benignly calling out some new charge.

The Vice President has shown that he is able, intelligent and articulate. His trip abroad proved that he was capable of great discretion and action in the highest manner of diplomacy.

The trouble with his statements is that they are negative. They attract support by calling names at someone else, or disparaging individuals or groups. In our present state of mind, kindness may be a far better instrument of national policy than vituperation. Mr. Agnew could do much to heal the Nation's wounds if he were to aid in development of a more cheerful attitude, to "accentuate the positive". At this turn of the calendar, such a contribution would be of immense value.

THE POST GIVES ITS COLUMNISTS A GREAT DEAL OF LATITUDE, OFFERING READERS THE BENEFIT OF KNOWLEDGEABLE VARYING OPINION. THEIR OPINIONS ARE NOT NECESSARILY THOSE OF THE POST, WHICH ADDRESSES ITSELF TO ITS READERS ONLY THROUGH CLEARLY MARKED EDITORIALS.

In Good Company

SAMUEL CHANDLER

Daly City Librarian

A YOUNG MAN with some schooling but little experience leaned over my desk. "I'm ashamed to be a middle class American," he declared.

Ashamed- Indeed!

It is no disgrace to be middle class; to be part of the great group that spends its labor to provide the highest standard of living ever known, a group that produces the lawyers, doctors, housewives, professors, students, statesmen, handymen, mayors, principals, teachers, architects, plumbers, charpenders, reporters, laborers: the people who work and get things done.

A long time ago the greatness of the middle-class was declared by Aristotle who wrote:

"The best political community is formed by citizens of the middle-class." Then he spoke from his age to ours. "Those states are likely to be well administered in which the middle-class is large and larger if possible than both of the other classes, or at any rate than either singly."

"FOR THE ADDITION of the middle-class turns the sclae and prevents either of the x-tremes from being dominant."

Americans, of all people, should realize that the so-called middle-class turns the scale. It is part of the history of their country.

After observing that there were no British noblemen among the Pilgrims of Plymouth Rock, George F. Willison, a historian and teacher in a middle-class university, wrote, "They were interested in the immediate scene about them and in trying to make it better even at the cost of their lives. They had no time for ancestor worship, no taste "for monuments. Rather, they had the supreme human qualities—an intelligent awareness of the things about them, a sensitive desire to do something to bring them closer to their hearts desire, and an absolutely indomitable spirit in pursuing their own high purposes."

FROM THESE MIDDLE-CLASS founders, the Pilgrims, came the indomitable spirit that sent middle-class Americans to conquer a continent, the seas and now space. A good history of the United States shows that America has always been the country of middle-class people, from the Revolution to the Space age.

If you are a middle-class American you are in good company with the Pilgrims, as I have said; the pioneers with Lincoln, Edison, Nixon, your favorite movies star and sports hero; the opera stars, painters, writers, and thinkers that brighten American history.

Therefore, let no one suppose that a middle-class American is a slob, or a bourgeois simpleton. You can hear in the things he says and feel in his actions the echo of the aspirations of his Pilgrim ancestors:

Our "attempts were not to be made and undertaken without good ground and reason; nor rashly or lightly as many have done for curiositie or hope of gain etc . . . If was granted the dangers were great, but not desperate the difficulties were many, but not invincible.

Jeff High's Twelfth Annual

Model Senate A Long-Term Effort

"This bill is an obvious invasion into the privacy and liberty each American is entitled to as a citizen of this great nation."

These words were echoed across the floor of Jefferson High School's 11th Annual Model Senate by Senator Griffin, portrayed by Jim Lemke. The legislation at hand was the first bill to be debated by the Model Senate, the Ecological Systems Control Act of 1970.

The Model Senate is an annual event sponsored by the Social Science Department at Jefferson High School. The program is entirely directed by the Students at Jefferson with the help of advisors Ken Sweeney and Jeff Pelzner.

Preparation of the Model Senate program begins in the fall semester, when all interested students may sign up.

At this time the purposes and goals of the Model Senate are explained and the election of a majority and minority party leaders takes place.

Republican Minority Leader Senator Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania was portrayed by Riley Atkins and Helen LaraCea held the position of Democratic Majority Leader Senator Mike Mansfield of Montana.

All students who signed up then selected senators they wished to portray. During the following months all the students worked to complete bills in time for the program in late April.

When the Model Senate finally rolled around, the students had authored six pieces of legislation including an Ecological Control Act, an Immigration Act, a Federal Support to College Students Act, a bill declaring Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday a holiday, Repeal of the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution, and a resolution declaring support for various United Nations' doctrines.

On the final day of the Model Senate both the Democrats and the Republicans introduced their surprise bills.

This year, the Democrats' surprise bill was a resolution asking for a no-confidence vote from the Senate for Attorney General Mitchell.

The Republican's surprise was an amendment to the Selective Service Act abolishing all draft deferrments to college students. This bill also passed the 11th annual Model Senate.

The Model Senate also investigated the subjects of quality education and busing.

The witnesses included such eminent guests as Dr. Max Rafferty portrayed by Don Behm, a math teacher. All of this year's witnesses were drawn from the Jefferson Faculty.

The three sessions of the Model Senate were shown on closed circuit television which allowed the proceedings to be seen on monitors in strategic areas of the school.

Stabbing Assault Charged

A San Bruno man was in satisfactory condition Friday in Kaiser Hospital, Redwood City, after sustaining a knife wound in the side Thursday. His assailant has been charged with assault to commit murder by San Bruno police.

Police said Larry J. Cayan, 33, of 564 First Avenue, was stabbed in the right side as a result of an argument and fight about 11 p.m. at a service station at Second and San Bruno Avenues.

Arrested was Jacinto Robledo, 25, of 1050 Magnolia, Millbrae. He is scheduled to appear for arraignment at South San Francisco this morning.

According to police, a car containing Robledo and two others drove into the station at which Cayan is the attendant. Police said the argument and fight started when one of the car's passenger's spit out the window upon Cayan's parked car.

During the ensuing scuffle, Cayan was stabbed with a knife. Police have not as yet retrieved the weapon. Cayan was rushed to Peninsula Hospital for emergency treatment before being transferred to the Kaiser facility.

Man Hurt In Boy's Prank

A boy's "prank" resulted in severe injuries to a Burlingame man in Daly City Thursday.

Highway patrolmen said Angelo Del Carlo, 51, of 2720 Trousdale Drive, was injured when he swerved his pickup truck to miss a shopping cart on Junipero Serra Freeway beneath the Junipero Serra Boulevard overpass.

Witnesses said they saw a young boy push the shopping cart off the overpass.

Del Carlo, owner of a truck and auto repair garage, told officers that he saw the car ahead of him swerve sharply and then saw the shopping cart in the roadway. He braked and swerved and the pickup flipped upside down.

Del Carlo was taken to Mary's Help Hospital for treatment of a severe gash over his right eye, and multiple chest contusions and abrasions.

Officers were attempting today to identify the boy.

Recommend Annexation

South San Francisco planning commissioners have recommended annexation of property into the unclassified district zoning for the construction of a senior citizen facility known as The Rotary Plaza.

The commissioners also approved a tentative parcel map of Person-Swanson to subdivide into two parcels property on the west side of San Mateo Avenue, on the south bank of Colma Creek.

A use permit request of Advan, Inc., to locate two billboards at the southwest corner of Produce Avenue and Terminal Court has been denies.

And two other matters, a use permit for a theater (cinema) in the Westborough Square Shopping Center and a use permit to establish a service station at El Camino Real and West Orange Avenue, have been held over until the June 22 meeting.

Yoga Offered In Daly City

Here is a unique idea for adult summer activities: Try yoga and develop health and physical fitness through controlled exercise and breathing.

Classes are sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Division and are open to adults sixteen years of age and older.

The following classes are available: Monday, June 8 — August 3 (no class July 6) 7:30-8:30 p.m., Westmoor Park Clubhouse, 123 Edgmont Drive; Wednesday, June 10 — July 29, 8 - 9 p.m. Westmoor Park Clubhouse, 123 Edgemont Drive.

There is a minimal instruction fee of $4 for either of the eight class sessions. Students are requested to register prior to the first class.

Students should send name, address, phone and instruction fee to the Daly City Recreation, Parks and Maintenance Department, 134 Hillside Boulevard.

Westmoor Pool Size Agreement Worked Out

By FRANK LAPIERRE
Post-Times Writer

Talks between the Jefferson Union High School District and the Daly City City Council last week regarding construction of a swimming pool at Westmoor High School has settled the question of what size pool would be agreeable to both agencies.

But the meeting ended with many questions remaining unanswered.

At least three councilmen were uncertain they could or would accept a "package deal" with the school district that would include the 33-year-old Jefferson High School swimming pool.

The construction of the Westmoor pool has been discussed for more than five years and costs on the project increase about five per cent each year, according to superintendent Edward Morgan.

Since the last round of talks with the city, however, the school district has cut the cost of pool construction from a previous $1.5 million estimate to some $600,000. At the same time the size of the pool was drained from an Olympic sized 50 meter pool down to a 25 yard standard sized pool.

Both sides feel the now-proposed pool will not only serve the school and city recreational needs, but will be within financial reach of both.

Asked about the reason for the switch, Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett replied:

"Would you rather live in a $50,000 home that you can afford, or a $100,000 home that you couldn't possibly pay for?

The pool matter was presented to the council in three parts: Construction of the Westmoor pool; Operation and maintenance of the Westmoor pool, and; Operation of the Jefferson High School pool.

School trustee Mrs. Jane Powell informed the council the Westmoor package was not contingent on whether the city wanted anything to do with the Jefferson pool.

Much of last week's joint discussion centered around the financing of the pool, which will be built inside a climate-controlled structure.

Morgan, after noting that between the two agencies almost half of the costs could be applied in cash, optimistically predicted that any bonds floated for the remainder could be paid off within seven years.

City manager David Rowe said he was thinking more along a 12 year recall date period.

The estimated $340,000 in bonds would not legally have to come before the general public for approval, Rowe noted.

Others expressed the opinion that in today's bond market a favorable rate could be realized on the tax free bonds—perhaps as low as 7 per cent.

Lycett disputed this figure and called the 7 per cent bond interest rate "unrealistic" in the current declining bond market.

The mayor informed the school district that because of two new councilmen—Louis J. Papan and McRobert (Mac) Stewart—the city could not give a firm answer right away.

He said the city was in the midst of budget talks—as is the school district—and would need another two weeks of council talks on the pool before giving the district an answer.

"We came here tonight to either put up or shut up," Morgan said. "We're here to put up."

The mayor said "this (put up or shut up) thinking had not been proposed to me before the meeting."

CENTRAL COAST PLAY

Sacred Heart Edges Tigers

By JERRY LITTRELL
Post Sports Writer

The good life apparently caught up with the Terra Nova High School basebal team Thursday on Burlingame's Washington Field and as a result the defending Central Coast Section champion Tigers have hung up their spikes for 1970.

Sequoia High School's South Peninsula League champions had their season end Thursday also by losing to Homestead, 9-4, in Region II play.

The Tigers had eased through the rugged North Peninsula League schedule and won the conference title with a full two weeks to go in the season. Not nearly as sharp as it has been in previous outings, Al Figone's squad kicked away a 4-3 decision Thursday to the Fighting Irish and was eliminated from further diamond action.

The game had everything anyone could ask for on a diamond — a lot of baserunners, good scoring opportunities both ways, the clockwork umpire-coach nose-to-nose confrontation, clutch pitching, a protest, a seemingly innocent rule interpretation that eventually meant the game and numerous brilliant fielding plays.

Layoff Hurts

It had been four weeks since the Tigers "had" to win a ball game and the mental layoff was evident. Sacred Heart, meanwhile, just came off winning the West Catholic Athletic League play-offs and, despite committing four errors itself, came through with four brilliant plays to keep John Cosmos a winner.

"The layoff was just too long for us," admitted Figone after the game. "I was afraid something like this would happen. We just gave the game to them—handed it to them with shoddy defensive play, both mentally and physically."

Cosmos, the celebrated SH lefty, was "not sharp" but "he was able to make the clutch pitch when he needed it," said winning mentor Jim Koeppen. Cosmos struck out only six and walked eight, hit another batter, threw two wild pitches and generally kept himself in hot water despite limiting TN to just three hits.

His Tiger counterpart, lefty Bob McClure, was brilliant in spots but had trouble with the supposedly weaker hitters near the bottom of the lineup. McClure struck out 10 and walked five while hitting one.

After a scoreless opening inning, McClure put on a one-man show that nearly drove Koeppen up the flagpole. An infield error gave life to the leadoff batter for SH in the second but McClure picked him clean off first for one out. He walked the next batter and again picked off the Irish runner by five feet bringing Koeppen out claiming a balk but the umpires would have none of it.

TN scored twice in the second when Mike Rawlings walked, Mike Calder ripped a shot to right field for a single and Bud Papadakis singled in Rawlings. Then Frank Mutti grounded to second but Papadakis shouldered the SH infielder trying to get him and the ball went into short center allowing Calder to score from second on the error.

After a walk, single and hit-batter loaded the bags in the third, SH pushed its first run across on Joe Marion's sacrifice fly.

Then all hell broke loose in the fifth. Bob Davis, who bats ninth but got two hits and a walk and scored twice Thursday, walked and went to third when McClure's attempted pickoff caught everyone off guard. Paul O'Leary's clean single tied it at 2-2 before Marion hit an infield roller to third for a short single.

The Tiger third baseman made a useless throw to first on the play and threw the ball into dead territory. The field umpire, who had earlier taken the game into his own hands by making three strikeout calls from 90-feet down the line without being asked for help, ruled that O'Leary had crossed second before the throw and should get home base and a run.

Figone protested the ruling, claiming all runners should advance just two bases, the protest committee gathered behind home plate and, after a 15-minute delay, upheld the umpire's ruling giving SH a 3-2 lead. (All prep games are played under high school rules which have many exceptions, such as this one, to professional standards.)

SH made it 4-2 in the seventh when the ever-present Davis singled, went to third on Tim Burke's double and when the Tiger centerfielder allowed the ball to trickle through his glove, came home on the costly error.

Terra Nova went down fighting in the seventh. McClure walked to open the frame but Cosmos bore down and struck out the next two batters. Then Calder slammed a twisting liner to deep center that kicked off the outfielder's glove bringing in McClure for a 4-3 score. Cosmos got Papadakis to ground out ending the game and TN's season.

Cosmos was reeling from the fifth inning on but super plays by third baseman O'Leary and shortstop Phil Urabe (four in the last two innings) kept Cosmos' head above water.

Both pitchers have seen better days. Cosmos threw 124 times and McClure chipped in 106 more for seven innings.

Built Dynasty

Figone Quits TN For S.F. State

Al Figoni, who built a baseball dynasty at Terra Nova High School that brought the Tigers two consecutive North Peninsula League titles and the area's only Central Coast Section championship in any sport, has resigned his position at the Pacifica school.

The Tiger head coach has announced he will take over as head varsity baseball coach at SN Francisco State College replacing departing coach Tom Goering, who is taking another coaching assignment at Sacramento City College.

Figone will also assume the job of offensive line coach for the Gator football team under head coach Vic Rowen.

No replacement for Figone has yet been nemed. S.F. State graduate Bud Bresnahan, who just took over the frosh-soph zaseball team this year and coached it toa championship, has been cited a strong possibility as Figone's successor.

"I feel that now is the time to make my move if I hope to advance in the baseball coaching ranks," Figone stated "This is a real challenge and is a professional improvement. I've always wanted to try coaching in the college ranks. I may not like it after I've been there but it's always better to give it a try."

The Tigers were 13-1 this year in the NPL after sharing a co-championship with Jefferson High School last year. In 1969 the Tigers took the co-title and parlayed it into the CCS title sweeping three post-season play-off games.

Tennis Class Schedules In SSF Told

Registration for the first session of the South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department tennis lessons will be taken Wednesday and Thursday, June 17 and 18 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the department offices at Magnolia Recreation Center, Grand and Magnolia Avenue in South San Francisco. Loop Action In Daly City

The Slo-Pitch Powder Puff Softball League, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Division, is making weekly news at Westlake Park.

Frank Torres Sluggers palyed their toughest game of the league and narrowly edged Wilderson's 76ers with a final score of 11-7. An early lead was guaranteed when Rachael Perez placed an effective double. Kathy Honrado and Betty Cosmos of the 76ers teamed up for a double play but all efforts failed to put the Sluggers under.

C & L Garage soundly beat Moore's Truck Stop, 21-10.

C & L scoored eleven runs in one inning backed by a double play on behalf of Joan Segaler and Pat Jakubowski.

League play will continue through June.

Kerri's Still Leads Coast Adult League

Kerri's remained on top of the Pacifica Adult Basketball League, by nipping the much improved Sorefeet, 72-69. Kerri's had five men in double figures which included: Ed Larios and Don Delbon (15 points). The high point man in the game was Rich Gaines from the Sorefeet with 25 points.

Tom Meza and Cris Grey combined for 46 points, as the French Club got back on the winning way by barring the F-Troop at the stake 75-69. John Koljon led the scoring for the F-Troop with 26 points.

Dave Stevens, went to the nets for 22 points as the Jox's shattered Dial Glass 59-50. Bob Fellows paced the Glass boys with 13 points.

The Nubs picked up a forfeit win from the AAA.

Teen Basketball

The Park, Beach & Recreation Department, will be sponsoring a Teen Basketball League, beginning the week of June 15. Games will be played every Wednesday night in the Terra Nova Gym. Deadline for signing up a ball club will be June 5, at City Hall before 5 p.m.

Registration for the program will be held at Sharp Park School on Saturday, between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. The fee for baseball, will be $5 a boy.

The objectives of the program are to enable each boy to learn the fundamentals of baseball, and to play in competition based on ability, age and growth.

Other Play

Defending Champion Bruce's Richfielders, got on the winning way by gasing Condero Chevy. 22-16. Colleen Morse and Jill Gasokowski rapped out four hits apiece to led the offensive attack for the Richfielders. Kay Black led the Racers with four hits.

Pitch, Throw, Hit Contest In Daly City

First A Warning, Then A Conclusion Times Change

LE PACINI

Sportscripts

Before I formally begin this column, a small note of warning to those Karate people who have expressed displeasure with our recent pieeces on the more seemy side of Karate. I just wish to advise those Karate men who may have the wild notion to get back at me, that I am a first degree Black Belt in Patty-Cakes, and if they get smart, I'll just slap them good!!

AS FURTHER PROOF, if one still needs it, of the old cliche that times, they are a changin', we present the following short piece which we wrote in early September, 1966:

"Horace Stoneham is generally regarded as one of the most generous men in baseball, but even if he were to somehow cajole the City of San Francisco into building a weather-proof stadium for him in the image of that one in Houston, it's doubtful whether he could or would want to afford it.

"To understand Stoneham's inevitable reluctance in such an undertaking, one must know four facts:

"1) If Leo Durocher hasn't already informed you, real grass, because of the lack of unfiltered sunshine, can't grow under the Astrodome, and so the genuine stuff has been substituted for with a bogus material which can be zipped up and sent to the cleaners.

"2) Horace Stoneham, not the city, employs his gardners.

"3) San Francisco is a strong union town.

"4) Local cemeteries are automated.

"Random as they may seem, the above factors are in definite juxtposition.

"Stoneham employs eight gardeners, including head man Matty Schwab, to manicure his wind tunnel, but if a lid were placed on Candlestick, ground care would be reduced to zipping, cleaning, and keeping the infield dust down.

"Under such conditions, it would be hard to conceive of more than four people being employed to maintain the grounds: Schwab, a tailor, a hand maid, and perhaps a retired usherette to handle the laundramat. This would mean a minimum of four laid-off gardeners.

"Local union representatives, when asked to theorize on the potential of such a situation, agreed that it would indeed be an unusual circumstance involving a rather unique problem, but would not commit themselves as to the posture unions might take in protecting gardeners.

"There was one cautious but ominous allusion, however, to a possible precident established by gravediggers who pride hit new depths a couple of years ago when local cemeteries went automated. Realizing that their clients were in position to deal in sympathy strikes, the gravediggers offered such eloquent intellectual arguments that to this day the cemeteries must have standby crews of gravediggers even though there is little left for them to do but to replace a few divots.

"As a result they are now quite literally on the gravy train and may have at least temporarily put cemetery owners in the hole, for a change.

"Keeping this success story in mind, and knowing Stoneham's penchant for getting his money's worth (witness Willie Mays), it would be difficult to picture the Squire paying for men too do nothing, an indulgence he last practiced with his 1947 starting rotation."

YOU GET THE IDEA. While a few details in the piece are now obscured by time, it's almost all recognizable because what was treated lightly, even humorously, and certainly as a virtual impossibility, has become a partial reality. We don't have the domed stadium, but we do have the ersatz grass, and we wonder if Matty Schwab and crew has really run into the sort of problems we predicated for them four years ago. We'll have to check that out someday.

WE'VE TRIED just about everything in this column but quoting a quote. Which is what we're going to do next because we like it, and if you're a baseball fan, you will, too. We quote from a recent column of Robert de Roos in the San Francisco Examiner, who quotes Roger Angell of the New Yorker:

"Baseball's clock ticks inwardly and silently, and a man absorbed in a ball game is caught up in rural time — a slow, green time of removal and concentration — and in a tension that is screwed up slowly and ever more tightly with each pitcher's windup and with the almost imperceptable forward lean and little half step with which the fielders accompany each pitch.

"Whatever the pace of the particular baseball game we are watching, whatever its outcome, it holds us in its own time and mercifully releases us from our own. Any persistent effort to destroy this unique phenomenon, to 'use up' baseball's time with planned distractions will in fact transform the sport into another mere entertainment and thus guarantee its swift descent into the status of a boring and stylized curiosity."

Just what we would have said, just what we would have said.

MISCELLANY: If case you've forgotten, new Giant manager Charley Fox was a Daly City resident (he left his fog on Skyline) when he was third base coach for the Giants. He's a nice guy, friendly, cooperative. We once did a telephone interview with him, the subject being how he handled Willie Mays from the coaching box (more on that another time), and he gave us an hour and would have given us more had we been prepared for more. He's also tough, maybe too tough at one time, which may be why he was passed over first for Herman Franks, and then for Clyde King. Once, in the minor leagues, when one of his primo pitching minions refused to leave the mound when Charley went out to remove him. Charley solved the problem by knocking the guy off the mound with a right cross. You just don't go around doing those things in the National League. The Giants have been waiting for Charley to mellow.

Would you ever have believed that the Yankees would one day, in the 20th century, be LAST in the MAJORS in homeruns? They are now. They're also 10th in batting. But they're making the most of their opportunities. Only three American League teams have scored more runs.

The Giants have also proven to be opportunists this year, something of which they're rarely been accured in the past. They're sixth in the NL in batting, third in homers, but easily lead the MAJORS in runs scored.

And how could we have ever left Curt Flood off our recent All Ex-Cincinnati team? Even if he did only bat once for them in 1956, he qualifies.

MAYBE WE HAVE A TWISTED sense of humor, but the funniest thing in the newspapers last week (including the comics and Spiro Agnew) was a wire service report that the Soviet sports newspaper, Sovietsky, had called Avery Brundage and the International Olympic Committee, "undemocratic."

If you Irishmen out there are beginning to feel smug about Fox and Alan Gallagher and Rich Robertson, allow us to inform you that both Gallagher and Robertson have Italian mothers. Fox is going to have to get by the best way he can.

And if you're wondering what happened to Marty Coil, the ex-Terra Nova, S.F. Stater who signed with the Giants a coouple of years ago but didn't sign this year, wonder no longer. Marty has given up his desk at a local life insurance firm to play anywhere they want him at Amarillo. If we know Marty, every player on the Amarillo roster will be over-insured by July.

15 County Spikes In State Meet

Title For Northern Cal?

By JERRY LITTRELL

For those of you out there who may still be a little confused, let's make a few things (non-political) perfectly clear — (A) Rick Brown, contrary to popular rumor, is human; (B) so is Chris Adams; and (C) together they could supply the impetus to give Northern California its first state track championship in nearly a decade.

Anyone who doesn't know the two above-mentioned lads hasn't been keeping up with the weekly track summaries. Both do their own things for Los Altos High School, a prep foundling home that this year has spewed forth top-caliber thinclads like a gusher.

Last Saturday at Foothill Junior College these two prep phenoms led Los Altos to the Central Coast Section track title andt his coming weekend they are expected to keep LAHS in contention for the state title, an honor that has eluded Bay Area teams since last Berkeley High School came home a winner in 1957.

Los Altos came away from the Owl track with a team total of 60 points compared to second place Gunn High School's 25. Crestmoor made fourth place with 22 markers.

While no Peninsula school will come close to the state title up for grabs at the University of California's oval this weekend, last Saturday's qualifying meet proved that this section will send some of its strongest and most talented representatives in several seasons.

Five different athletes from this area grabbed first place honors with Crestmoor's Chuck Bommarito being the area's lone double winner after capturing both sprints. Four more second place finishes went to local leagues while eight third places were taken by homebodies. The top three finishers in each event last Saturday automatically qualify for this Saturday's confrontation.

The MPL, NPL, SPAL and WCAL will contribute 14 individual athletes and two other relay teams to the UC-gathering.

No Most Valuable Athelete was chosen but if any vote were taken Brown would have won in a landslide. The unassuming LAHS senior accomplished what is generally considered a near impossible feat, especially in such rugged competition — he won the 880-yard run in a new CCS record time of 1:50.7 and came back less than 25 minutes later to set still another CCS standard, this time a 47.1 mark in the 440.

To show he wasn't even winded, the Cal-bound Brown then ran the anchor leg on Los Altos' record-shattering mile relay team and was unofficially clocked at 46.6 as the team ran a sensational 3:15.8, the best time it has run all year.

"I feel we are beginning to peak about now and we are right on schedule," said LAHS coach Leo Long after the meet. "We all feel we have a very good shot at the state title. We qualified the men we wanted to Saturday and we will just have to sit back and see how the breaks will go this weekend. We want to stay close and hope for the right total of team points."

Backing up Brown was Adams, another UC-bound blue-chipper, who swept to first places in both the shot and the discus, the latter setting a new CCS record of 189-3½. Los Altos appears to be in the Driver's seat with one first place (discus) clinched for Saturday and assured of no less than runner-up points in the shot, quarter-mile, mile relay and 880.

All totaled, eight new CCS records were set and two others were tied in the muggy heat down south. Bommarito, who had been beaten earlier in the trial heats by Len Johnson of Overfelt, came on with a vengeance in the 100-yard dash finals to win it in 9.7, tying the old CCS mark. The Crestmoor junior trailed almost in last place the first 50 yards then apparently cut in his afterburners and smoothly moved ahead to a widening victory gap over Johnson.

Bommarito followed the same pattern in getting his 220 win. He dropped back early to nearly seventh place then on the far turn made his winning kick to smash the old CCS record by one-tenth of a second.

Serra's Lynn Swann, who missed running in the hurdle event because of a graduation ceremony, sailed to his seasonal best of 24-2 in the long jump to take first place.

San Mateo's Karl Goldstone and Camden's Roger Martin engaged in a pole-vaulting war that lasted most of the afternoon. When the stadium was nearly empty, Goldstone had come forth with a 14-10, his seasonal best, to win first place on fewer misses.

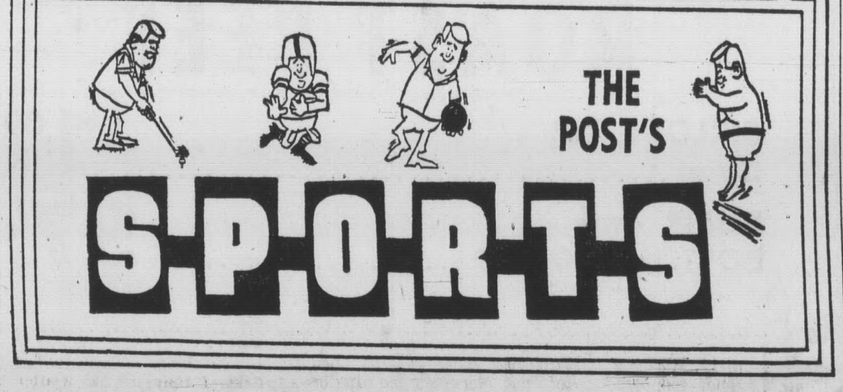
San Mateo County came through with a clean one-two-three sweep in the high jump as Sequoia's Jay May and Ron Bosch swept first and second with identical 6-6 jumps while Oceana's yonug junior, Larry Kermabon, got third with a 6-3.

cided earlier, the mile relay

Even though the meet was derace was the one people were waiting for. The anticipation wasn't wasted. Crestmoor and Los Altos put on quite a battle for two and one-half laps before LAHS jumped 20 yards ahead on the third lap and handed the baton to Brown. The Falcons' Bommarito, still a little drained from the sprints and suffering from a lack of experience in the quarter-mile, tired near the end and fell to third place with a 3:20.5, four seconds better than the Falcons' next best time.

The next-highest representation in Berkeley this weekend will come in the mile where Mills' Wayne Smith and Burlingame's Dave Montoya placed second and third in a race that Awalt's Dave Chamness won with ease.

Hillsdale's Phil Florea became the lone weight-man to get into the Berkeley meet as he flipped the shot 54-8¾ to take a third. The Knights' Steve Ralston, who had approached 190 feet just two days before in practice, managed just a 158-foot throw in the finals and was eliminated from further action.



Larry Fuhs Bar Mitzvah

Larry Fuhs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fuhs of Daly City, will become Bar Mitzvah at Congregation B'nai Israel on Saturday. Rabbi Solomon A. Shore and Cantor Henry Greenberg will conduct the 10 a.m. services.

Shavous begins June 9. Confirmation and graduation from Hebrew School exercises will be held then, with additional services June 10 at 9 a.m. and 8 p.m., with Yiskor services at 9 a.m. June 11.

DC Bowling

Housewives May Learn To Bowl

Special to the Post

Daly City housewives will have an opportunity to learn how to bowl this summer at no cost.

Westlake Bowl is offering four-week courses to introduce the gals to bowling starting June 16. Classes will be at 1 p.m. on Tuesdays and 10 a.m. on Thursdays for anyone who wants to attend.

Serra Bowl is continuing their free class schedule with information available from Dottie Millard, the daytime manager in the Colma center.

Miss Millard does more than manage. The veteran won the Fiesta Lanes Endurance tournament in Hayward last week by averaging 212 for her seven games with a 1,483 total.

Topping the night side as both a bowler and manager is Bill Rice. He rolled out a 256 game and 830 series for four games to top the 540 trios loop while Les Bergamaschi, the Friar Room hostess and all-star picked up seven splits in her series.

Clara Meadows rolled a 765 series to top the Ladies Classic at Serra Bowl and Johnny Swanson's junior director at Westlake, Marge Brown, topped the Ladies Invitational loop with a 734 series. Carl Steigerwald paced the 545 Scratch Trios at Westlake with a 237 game and sizzling 655 series.

The senior citizens and junior citizens were both honored last Wednesday. Senior Citizens Day drew 24 and they formed a club to meet and bowl weekly.

Junior citizens at Westlake received an imposing group of trophies for championship competition in the city tournament and Easter Classic.

Serramonte Homeowners Sponsor Coaster Derby

The first annual Serramonte Coaster Derby, sponsored by the Seramonte Homeowners Association, will be held Sunday, at 1 p.m. on upper Morton and Wemberly Drives (1 block south of Hickey Boulevard.)

The event, open to boys from the second to eighth grades, is the first in a series of youth activities to be sponsored by the Serramonte Homeowners Association.

Coaster Derby Director Al Kaye, a member of the Board of Directors of the Serramonte Homeowners Association, has offered to help the boys entering the race with materials, construction of the cars, and with financial help, if need be.

Over 30 boys have entered the race so far, but more are welcome. All boys from the second to the eighth grades who live in the Serramonte-Terra Loma-Parkmont area can enter. It is necessary to register with Kane at 4117 Callan Blvd. to be eligible to race. There is no entry fee for members of the Serramonte Homeowners Association. Non-members' entry fee is $1.

Boys entering the Coaster Derby will be in competition for three trophies, plus numerous valuable prizes. The winner of the race will receive "The Fastest Car Trophy" (donated by Barry Van Otten Chevron Station) plus a prize. "The Mayor's Trophy" (donated by Serramonte resident Lary Petrucci) will be presented by Daly City Mayor Bud Lycett to the boy who shows "the best sportsmanship." A trophy will also be awarded to "The Best Looking Car," (donated by Strawhat Pizza in Westborough Square).

Judges for the Coaster Derby are newly-elected Daly City councilman McRobert "Mac" Stewart; Daly City Police Officer Richards and David Cricks, principal of Serramonte's Skyline School.

The final event of The Coaster Derby will be a race between "The Fastest Car" and "The Mystery Car." If the Coaster Derby winner also wins this race, he will be presented with "The Mystery Car".

Night Light Suspected In S.S.F. Blaze

A South San Francisco house fire at 9:26 a.m. on Friday caused $1,200 structural damage and $1,000 content loss at 415 Park Way.

Fire officials said the blaze possibly was caused by a night light which was beside a stuffed chair.

The flames spread to the drapes and as the drapes fell to the floor, the rugs caught fire.

No one was home at the time, firemen said. They added that there was extensive smoke damage as the fire smoldered for quite some time.

The fire department responded to a neighbor's call with two engines, one truck and 13 men, and had controlled the blaze within 45 minutes.

Retirement Is Noted

San Bruno city councilmen have officially noted that veteran City Manager Gerard Vergeer will be retiring as of June 30.

Councilman Maurice Hamilton expressed thanks for long and faithful service and instructed City Attorney Joe Galligan to prepare an appropriate "letter of thanks."

Mayor Neil Christal also requested a plaque be made.

The Chamber of Commerce will honor Vergeer at a recognition dinner on June 26.

NELL NORTON
Sugar 'n Spice

Good morning, good cooks.

Do you feel like baking some cookies? I hope so, for I've been testing some recipes and find I have a nice variety to share.

This first recipe was a prize winner in the Bake-Off a few years ago. If your family likes coconut be sure to try these.

COCONUT-OATMEAL DROPS

3 eggs
2-cups confectioners' sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
½ cup flour
One-third cup instant nonfat dry milk, if desired
½ teaspoon salt
Two and two-thirds cups (7-ounce package) flaked coconut
2 cups quick-cooking rolled oats
1 cup chopped walnuts

(Bake in 350-degree oven 10 to 12 minutes).

Beat the three eggs in mixing bowl until well blended. Add the two cups confectioners' sugar and two teaspoons vanilla; beat well. Sift together the half cup flour, third cup dry milk, and half teaspoon salt, blend into the creamed mixture along with the 7 ounces coconut, two cups rolled oats and one cup chopped nuts.

Drop by rounded teaspoonsful onto well greased cookie sheets. Bake in 350-degree oven for 10 to 12 minutes, or until a light golden brown.

Make about 60 cookies.

VARIATION: Add 6-ounce package semi-sweet chocolate morsels with the walnuts.

GUESS THESE NEXT COOKIES could also be called candies, if you consider the ingredients. (Since I don't eat candy, but do eat cookies, I'll call them cookies.) They are so easy to make, you can do them while you are chatting on the phone, or yelling at the kids or having a cup of coffee and a chat with your neighbor.

FRAN COHEN'S SPECIALS

1 small package butterscotch morsels
½ cup crunch peanut butter
3 cups cornflakes or rice crispies

In the top of a double boiler combine the package butterscotch morsels and half cup peanut butter. Melt over warm, not boiling water.

Pour over the three cups cereal. Drop heaping spoonsful onto wax paper and refrigerate to set.

IT SEEMS ALL THE RECIPES I've tested lately used some form of cereal. Which is great, it adds a little extra value to the cookies.

CHOCOLATE BRAN CRISPIES

2 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup margarine
1½ cups sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
1 cup all-bran
1 cup (6-ounce package) semi-sweet chocolate morsels

(Bake 375-degrees about 12 minutes).

Sift together the two cups flour, and half teaspoon each soda and salt. Set aside. In mixing bowl combine the cup of margarine and one and one-half cups sugar. Beat until light and fluffy. Add the two eggs and teaspoon vanilla; beat well. Stir in the cup of all-bran and package chocolate morsels.

Add the sifted dry ingredients; mix well. Drop by level tablespoonsful onto ungreased cookie sheet.

Bake in 375-degree oven about 12 minutes or until nicely browned. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

THESE TOFFEE SQUARES are so short and rich that they really do melt in your mouth. Be sure to use a large cookie sheet with sides on it and spread the dough quite thinly.

CEIL'S TOFFEE SQUARES

1 cup butter
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg yolk
1 package chocolate bits

(Bake 350 degrees 15 to 20 minutes.)

Cream the cup butter with the cup brown sugar. Add the egg yolk, teaspoon vanilla and two cups sifted flour. Mix well. Pat and spread on a large cookie sheet. Bake in 350-degree oven 15 to 20 minutes, or until nicely browned.

Spread the chocolate bits on the hot cookies with a spatula. Cut into squares or bars. Cool on rack.

Development Meet For Highway Land

A meeting of San Bruno's Highway Environment Board with representatives of the State Division of Highways relative to developing the lands beneath highway overpasses for recreational purposes has been fruitful.

The city's board consists of Richard Liberty, representing the Park and Recreation Commission; Leon Miller, representing the Planning Commission; Mrs. Myrtle Heath, representing the city's Beautification Committee and Councilman Ted Long, as council liaison.

According to Long, the group reviewed division of highway maps and were told the highway people would give the city an amount of money equal to what it would cost the state to normally landscape these areas.

Long said estimated landscape construction costs of the state is roughly $50,000 an acre.

In addition to receiving this money for the purpose of developing the lands for recreational use, the city would receive credit for five years of maintenance costs of the properties leased to the city, said Long.

The next move by the city is to have the city engineer meet with state highway representatives for the purpose of formulating "more specific" drawings of the possible areas of use. Some spots, lacking accessibility, will undoubtedly not be useable.

Uses, incidentally, include such things as tennis courts, hand ball courts and mini parks.

The city also is making contact with the cities of Oakland and San Jose. Both these cities have such facilities.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Park Just Once For Theater And Dinner

If you're planning to see the hit musical, "Hello, Dolly!" at Cinema 21 in San Francisco, make a note to enjoy dinner first at Lew Lehr's Steak House, just around the corner. Park just once for both dinner and the show . . . Authentic North Italian cuisine (Cucina Toscana) is featured at the Black Stag restaurant in Belmont. Both lunches and dinners are served daily in the elegant dining room and garden patio area. Splendid facilities for banquets, wedding receptions, fashion shows and meetings . . . Antonio, one of the bes' known Flamenco dancers of the Pacific Coast, has joined Finocchio's colorful revue, and now appears nightly with Rene de Carlo, the talented performer from the Mexican Folklorico Ballet. One of the amazing things about this show is that it always remains lively and entertaining . . . Each noonday (Monday through Friday) Vince Licata's Italian and Seafood restaurant features a luncheon special (in addition to the regular menu), and the portions are enormous! Friday's special is Baked Fish and is served with a choice of clam chowder or minestrone soup or luncheon salad with French dressing, and coffee. Sunday's dinner special is Roast Chicken and Polenta — delicious! . . .

Lew Lehr's

Stuart Anderson, owner of a string of Black Angus Steak Houses in the Pacific Northwest, as well as San Diego and a new one in San Mateo, usually rides horses. He owns his own Black Angus ranch for raising steers in Washington. But last week he was in the saddle of his "Black Angus Buggy," which has been riding around town telling people about the steak house. His restaurants are famous for one-price steak dinners — $3.95 for any cut, plus a "Smart Set" cocktail lounge. Singer-guitarist Jerry Chichetti entertains Tuesdays through Saturdays . . . Margie Brandon has descended upon the new decade with as much vigor as her enthusiasm on the organ each night at Gilbey's on Powell Street. Because so much remodelling is going on in the bistro, Margie's theme song these nights is "There'll Be Some Changes Made." Margie is perched behind a temporary organ bar while a new one is being built especially for her . . . Gourmet tip from the Shirt Tail in Palo Alto: French onion soup au crouton en Marnile, French peppercorn steak, accompanied by a carate of red wine freshly drawn from spigots at the wine bar. Conclude with Cappuccino L'Amour, a blend of liqueurs, special coffee and spices.

For its size, Barney's Casino, South Lake Tahoe, Nevada, has been the playground for more Greyhound Bus passengers than you can imagine. Since Barney's opening in 1960, hundreds of thousands of buses, both charters and schedules, have deposited passengers at the door of this casino. Attractive bonus refunds, courteous personnel, fast restaurant service, and free coffee 24 hours a day have combined to make Barney's the success it is today. Park Avenue Tours is the "guiding light" to Barney's for Greyhound buses these days. Casino Manager Luke Heiman and his assistant, Lou Vlasek, are your hosts . . . If a golf tourney is ever held for restaurant owners, your Bright Lighter's two bobs will go on Lucien Sabella, the lively "skipper" of A. Sabella's restaurant on Fisherman's Wharf. He shoots in the low 70's with ease . . . The Lamp Post Steak House in San Mateo is known for serving steaks of high merit at a ridiculously-low price. Sandwiches (steak and hamburger) are also house specialties . . .

"There's no business like restaurant business," says Pacifica's Mayor, Nick Gust. With The Moonraker, Nick's, and Papagayo Room (hosted by the popular Al Williams) all doing capacity business, is it any wonder Nick is all smiles? Understand Al Williams has given up bicycle riding since taking over the Papagayo duties — he does enough pedaling around the dining room five days a week . . . The special menu for Senior Citizens at Foster's Farm-Fried Chicken House (across from Hillsdale) is creating plenty of comment in the "Young in heart" circles. The low-priced dinner ($1.25) is served Monday through Friday from 1:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. and offers an entree change each day. Another hearty feature at Foster's is the "All the chicken you can eat" Farm-Fried Chicken dinner for $2.85.

Hollywood Nitery Star Rosemarie Villa Hotel

You don't have to come from Waukegan to succeed in show business. But, like Jack Benny and Rosemarie, who is currently presiding at the piano bar in the "Lounge at the Villa Hotel," Waukegan didn't hurt either one of them. The big difference is that Rosemarie started much, much later — and has not even reached "39" yet. Rosemarie was under age, and under height, so had to be "propped up" on a stool to reach the "88's." Divide it all by "3" and you get a rough idea of the few years of top success this Hollywood and night club performer has been setting lounge patrons back on the well-upholstered lounge chairs to listen to her piano renditions. There is only one Rosemarie — and the "Lounge at the Villa Hotel" boasts of having her . . . Arcade dining at Pardini's Grotto in Millbrae is becoming a warm weather habit with a great number of business people in the area. Gene Pardini and Paul Tufo feature ocean fresh seafood and steaks — and prepared any way you like it . . . Many classic gourmet dishes of France and Italy are served at dinner at Doros in San Francisco. They are prepared under the direction of Doros' master chef, Paolo Bermani.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Bidwell of Pasadena were recent dinner guests at Wilfried and Marion Blarer's Matterhorn restaurant in Burlingame. Having heard so much about the Swiss cuisine prepared by master chef Wilfried from others who have sought out this superb dinner house, their entree choice was Fondue Bourguignonne (for two), a Swiss specialty of the house. It's pieces of filet of beef, cooked at the table by you and served with a variety of sauces . . . Goodlooking Edmundo Rivan, who sings and plays guitar Wednesdays and Thursdays in the cocktail lounge at Stickney's at Town and Country Village, Palo Alto, has been "discovered" by the gals. Rivan is also featured for dinner music on Mondays, Fridays and Saturdays . . . The catering and restaurant combination of Bill Mills and Dave Rasmussen at the Shadows of San Mateo just can't be beat. Add to this union, top personnel in all departments and you have good reasons why business is lucrative . . . One of the popular gourmet treats at Phil Lehr's Steakery in downtown San Francisco carries the intriguing name, "Half & Half." It's a savory steak, broiled to your exact taste, plus tender broiled lobster tail; two superb entrees on the same dinner.

Mommer Named Bank Executive

Appointment of Frederick W. G. Mommer as executive vice president and chief executive officer of the First National Bank of Daly City was announced by Ricco Lagomarsino, chairman of the bank's board of directors.

Mommer, who has been in the banking profession since 1949, was previously president in charge of the Fremont Bank. Prior to that he was vice president in charge of correspondent banking at the San Francisco offices of Bank of America, executive vice president of Rocklin Sunset National Bank, and a branch manager of County Bank of Santa Cruz.

A U.S. Army veteran, Mommer, 42, graduated from New York University with a B.A. degree. An active participant in banking and civic organizations, he has been a director of California Banker's Association; member of the C.B.A. profit sharing committee; former president of Sunset Rotary Club; former vice chairman of Placer County Industrial Committee; and former chairman of Santa Cruz Chamber of Commerce Industrial and tourist committee. His principal hobbies are boating and golf.

Union Is Recognized

San Bruno City Mgr. Gerard Vergeer has formally recognized the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFSCME), AFL-CIO, as the bargaining agent for the city's street, water, sanitation and park departments.

The AFSCME union had twice been turned down by councilmen in attempts to obtain a secret ballot election with the thought of representing all miscellaneous (exlcuding police and fire) city personnel.

In addition to recognition of the AFSCME, Vergeer recognized the San Bruno Police Officers' Associaton as the police department representative. The fire department already is represented under their own group. About half the city staff, mostly clerical, is represented under the San Bruno City Employes' Association.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, will receive sealed bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation, and services required for

CARPETING AND DRAPERIES FOR ADDITIONS AND ALTERATIONS to the SAN MATEO COUNTY HALL OF JUSTICE AND RECORDS, County Government Center, Redwood City, California, for the County of San Mateo

2. Instructions for bidders, bid forms, specifications and contract documents may be examined at the office of the County Purchasing Agent, Redwood City, California. All bids shall be submitted in accordance with the requirements and conditions of said documents, including such bid bonds as may be required.

3. Drawings, specifications and contract documents may be examined and copies obtained at the office of the County Purchasing Agent, Redwood City, California, upon deposit of $10.00 for said documents, which deposit will be forfeited if the contractor fails to return the specifications in good condition within ten (10) days of the bid opening date.

4. Bids shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo at the Hall of Justice and Records, Redwood City, California, on or before the 23rd day of JUNE, 1970, at 2:00 P.M., and will be opened in public in the Chambers of said Board of Supervisors at or about 2:00 P.M. of that day in said Hall of Justice and Records.

5. WAGE RATES: The Board of Supervisors has determined and has had published the rates of prevailing wages in the County of San Mateo, in which the work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to perform the contract. Said prevailing rates are set forth on listing, copies of which are set forth in the specifications for the work, in the offices of the County Clerk, Purchasing Agent and Director of Building Construction. Crafts and rates per hour for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to perform this contract are listed under Wage Rates, Instructions to Bidders.

6. The prevailing rates so determined are based on an 8-hour day, 40-hour week, except as otherwise noted. Existing agreements between the Building Trades and the Construction Industry groups relative to overtime, holidays and other special provisions shall be recognized.

7. It shall be mandatory upon the contractor, and upon any subcontractors under him, to pay not less than the said specific rates to all laborers, workmen or mechanics employed by them in the execution of this contract.

8. A bond will be required for the faithful performance of the contract in amount of not less than One Hundred Per Cent (100%) of the amount of the bid, and a bond will be required to guarantee the payment of wages for services engaged and all bids contracted for materials used in the performance of the contract in an amount of not less than One Hundred Per Cent (100%) of the bid.

DEATHS

BRAULIO FRIAS

Braulio Frias, four-month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Frias of 510 Railroad Avenue, South San Francisco, died May 24 in South San Francisco.

Funeral services were conducted at 11 a.m. Thursday from the Nauman and Lincoln Mortuary, South San Francisco. Interment will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

A native of Palo Alto, he is also survived by a sister, Penelope.

Bid Awarded For Cherry Extension

Construction of the Cherry Avenue extension from San Bruno Avenue to Sneath Lane in San Bruno will be the job of Bahr Ledoyen Inc., of Palo Alto. The firm submitted a low bid of $460,493.64.

San Bruno councilmen awarded the bid when they sold assessment district bonds to Stone and Youngberg at a rate of 7.3900 per cent.

Regarding the extension, the councilmen took a firm stand against two requeests of the major developers being assessed for the work. These requests were that the city should pay part of the assessment costs and that they should share in the cost of a four-way traffic signal at San Bruno and Cherry Avenues.

Valez To Serve 4 More Years

Albert Velez, vice chairman of the San Bruno Park and Recreation Commission has been reappointed to a four-year term on the commission.

Other recent appointees to the commission are David Nigel, Pauline Sandkulla and Eleanor Mutto.

And recently recognized by the council for their eight years service on this commission were Charles Bacigalupi and Max Helmbacher.

Parking Ticket Tab Picked Up

San Bruno councilmen have agreed to pick up the tab for $680.34 for newly printed traffic tickets for the police department through the surplus funds account of the city.

The new tickets, ordered through the county, were necessary because of a change in the law. And the amount of money exceeded the police department's budgeted request for ticket printing.

Burglars Enter Home In S.S.F.

Burglars ransacked the Raymond Carrasco home in South San Francisco after forcing a front door lock.

Police said $1,217 in jewelry and cash — mostly jewelry, including a $1,000 women's ring — were taken from the Del Monte Avenue residence.

Bruno Buys TV Wagon

San Bruno councilmen have authorized the purchase of a station wagon for the city's cable television department from Sidlow Motors in San Bruno on a bid of $3,594.38.

The wagon will contain heavy duty springs, generators and batteries and will be used to carry portable television test equipment to service subscribers.

Councilman Dick Griffith voted against the purchase.

In other recent business, the council has:

Approved the acquisition of right-of-way and slope easement for widening of Sharp Park Road at Sharp Park and Skyline Boulevard.

Authorized two-hour parking limits on the east side of Green Avenue from San Bruno Avenue, south 100 feet, to prohibit all-day parking at this site.

Jury Trials Set In San Bruno Case

Pleas of not guilty have been entered by six persons arrested May 1 in connection with alleged illegal pinball operations in San Bruno.

Jury trial has been set for 9:30 a.m. July 29 for Eric Carlyle, 71, of San Francisco; Helen Price, 52, Ted McHugh, 48, and Edward Segali, 51, all of Millbrae.

And a 9:30 a.m. August 12 jury trial date was set for Joseph Sammut, Jr., 53, and Joseph Sammut III, 28, both of San Bruno.

The arrests were made in connection with alleged operations at the Dog House, 130 El Camino Real and Artichoke Joe's, 676 San Mateo Avenue. Pinball machines were consfiscated by the district attorney's office.

Sidewalk Repairs Urged

A suggestion of San Bruno Councilman Dick Griffith to renovate sidewalks in the downtown area before the city completes work on residential streets has been taken under advisement.

Griffith's suggestion is a move on his part to fulfill a campaign promise to do what he can to aid businessmen in bolstering business on San Mateo Avenue.

He said that during his campaign walks he covered many residential sidewalks marked for repair. And on a recent trip along San Mateo Avenue he found that most all of this sidewalk needed repair more than most others that he saw in March and April.

"If applicable," said Griffith, "we should enforce the city ordinance to assess for improvements on San Mateo Avenue, and perhaps widen the street by a foot on each side by narrowing each sidewalk."

City Engineer Leo Van Dusen said the same ordinance is applicable to the downtown area as is used in the residential. However, he said the department has been concentrating on the residential area with the intention of completing that prior to attacking the downtown streets.

Van Dusen said the residential areas are presently in phase four and the downtown area is scheduled for phase six. He said a phase consists of a 12-square block area.

Two other Griffith suggestions didn't receive as favorable a response.

One had to do with preparation of an agenda packet containing background material, for each of the councilmen. The other concerned the manner and philosophy in which the minutes are prepared.

Regarding his agenda packet request, Griffith said, "Providing everyone with a coyy of everything by Friday would be a great boon. It could read it over the weekend. Not having the free time of four attorneys (the other members of the council are lawyers) I find it difficult to get by and see the files. I only get off 20 to 30 minutes during the day. I hate to vote on things I'm not thoroughly familiar with."

Mayor Neil Christal questioned the Friday cutoff as being a good move. Deadline to get items on the agenda is now the afternoon of the Monday meeting night.

Councilman Maurice Hamilton thought it unnecessary to burden the councilmen with a file of background material as "a completely unnecessary expense," saying it was a councilman's duty to maintain his own background information. "He does have a time problem," said Hamilton, "but he has access to city hall.

Councilman Ted Long stressed much the same feeling as Hamilton; that there is a time problem, but accessibility to files is no problem if you have the time.

It was suggested that possibly an individual pack could be prepared for Griffith.

As to the manner and philosophy of preparing the minutes, Griffith said the minutes are "difficult to understand and reference to who (in the audience) is speaking on what subject is confusing."

"The people who spend the time to be here at the meetings should have the courtesy of having their name associated with the item on which they speak."

Pointing to the minutes of the last meeting, he said, "This is not accurate. All these people did not speak on all three of these items."

Mayor Christal told Griffith a secretary was not taking the material down in shorthand, and suggested that in the future what the individuals who appear before the council say be summarized and properly identified.

SSF Offers A Variety Of Activity

The South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department will have a large variety of summer programs offered to the public for youth, teens and adults starting June 22 and running through August.

A variety of programs both free of charges and with fees will run for approximately 10 weeks based on each individual program. Some programs will run in two four week sessions.

Fee programs in judo, guitar, tennis, golf, painting and drawing, and social dance are offered. Free programs will be in Tennis, Playground programs, Community Choraliers, and Summer Symphony.

The 8-11 Club will be operating with only a membership card necessary and the Teen Club will have free drop-in hours and a variety of special programs to be developed over the summer months.

All fee program registration will be held on only two days at the Magnolia Recreation Center, Grand and Magnolia Avenues, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., June 17-18.

A free summer brochure will be available shortly from the Recreation and Park Department with complete listing of programs to be offered.

TERRA NOVA HIGH TOPICS

By Anne Dryden

TERRA NOVA SENIORS celebrated the beginning of their year-end activities by cutting school last Thursday.

Senior Cut Day (or "Sneak" Day, as the administration prefers to call it) has become an official Terra Nova tradition.

Until recent years, seniors had a school-sponsored picnic at Turtle Rock Ranch and were severely warned against cutting en masse. Following the example of the class of 1969, this year's seniors decided to have an official day-off instead of a picnic.

They were free to go where they pleased and could even show up at school if they felt they couldn't stay away. Seniors spread out from the Russian River to Santa Cruz for this entirely non-school sponsored function. Credit should be given to the senior class officers for choosing the day before the Memorial Day school holiday for Cut Day, making a four-day weekend for seniors.

SCHOLARSHIP AND AWARD WINNERS from all four classes were honored at the annual Awards Assembly yesterday. After graciously accepting their awards and applause, the seniors retired to the cafetorium that had been decorated by the junior class for their Senior Reception.

At the liveliest class meeting in the history of the Class of 1970, seniors voted to allow the valedictorian and salutorian speak at graduation. Their speeches had previously been excluded because of concern over the length of the graduation program.

THE SENIOR EDITION of Tiger Tales will hopefully go on sale at the end of this week. The biggest issue every published, the magazine will contain exclusive senior polls, last wills, future plans and memories of the Class of 1970, as well as a feature on artist Peter Max and the TN Mime Troupe and a year-end sports report.

Circus, Parade And Barker Highlight SSF Pack Meeting

A circus barker, side-show and a grand parade highlighted the recent South San Francisco Pack 291 meeting. Mrs. Norma Mifsud's Den three led the parade with their dancing elephant, two headed man and bearded lady.

Committee Chairman Robert Blazer presented prizes to winner of the recent candy sale. First prize, a $15 certificate went to Erik Nyberg, and third prize, a $10 certificate to Hohn Fughi. Boys of Den Three sold a record 27 cases and will be taken to lunch for their prize. Transistor radios were presented to each Den's highest seller: Ronald Doane, Den One; Robert Warren, Den Two; Kenneth Mifsud, Den Three; Patrick Cassano, Den Four; John Funghi, Den Five; Roy Harmon and Steve Mifsud, Webelos Den One, duplicate prizes for a tie; and James Rodrick, Webelos Den Two.

Announcehent was made that due to the success of the candy sale the Pack was able to pay for the boys' rechartering and insurance for the year 1969 Summer Activity Awards were presented to Dens One, Two, Five, and Webelos. New Cub Scouts Fred Douglas and James Stoyko were welcomed by Cubmaster Robert Hermone.

Awards were presented to Cub Scouts Tony DeCesare, Derek Wiley, Brian Kenny, Ronnie Doane, Robby Warren, John Cianciolo, John Casey, Erick Hilario, and Mike Martin.

Webelos Leaders Larry Casey and Lonzo Warren welcomed four Cub Scouts into their dens. They also presented John Funghi, Eddie Bartoli, Paul Magallanes and Mike Seda with their Webelos colors, scarves, hats, books and scarf rings.

Crestmoor High School P-TA Slates Officers

Crestmoor High School P-TA had an election of officers, and the following officers will preside during the 1970-71 school P-TA year: Mrs. Earl Oldham, President; Mrs. Fred Milam, First Vice President; Mrs. DeWitt Samora, Second Vice President; Mrs. David Raff, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Edwin McNinch, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Carl Muehlendorf, Treasurer; Mrs. Robert Brodsky, Historian; Mrs. Bruce Bolger, Auditor and Principal George Kistovich, Honorary Vice President.

Plans for the coming P-TA are now being formulated with representatives from the faculty, students and the P-TA Executive Board, in hopes that the next year's programs will interest all three to participate.

Minority Shift To Coast, D.C.

Negroes are moving from the Hunters Point-Bayview district to suburbs like Pacifica and Daly City, reports San Francisco Unified School District fiscal officer James Porter.

Looking at elementary school enrollment reductions — projected from a trend two years old — Porter said he could find no comparable decrease in predominantly white enrollments.

El Camino High Students Elect Their New Leaders

The students of El Camino High School recently went to the polls to choose their 1970-71 student body officers.

David Jones was elected president; Rich Gregor, vice persident; Katrina Gardini, secretary and Deb Isely was elected to the office of treasurer. Mark Dillon was the winner of the boy's representative at large office while Diane Grennan won the contest for girl's representative at large.

President-elect David Jones, a senior next September, brings two years of student government experience to his new office. As a sophomore, Jones was elected class president and as a junior he was appointed to the student council as commissioner of clubs.

Though the new El Camino officers do not take office until September 1, they are already starting the preparations needed for the "kick off" student body card sales campaign.
